Foreign Aid Is Clearcut GOP Issue

Taft, Eisenhower At Sharp Odds Over Proposed Budget Cut

By The Associated Press

Republicans had foreign aid as a clearcut issue in their presidential campaign today while Democrats wondered anew if civil rights would split their party again.

The top contenders for Republican nomination--Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower—were at sharp odds over the amount needed to finance assistance abroad.

Eisenhower, in a cable from Paris to Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, said a one-billion-dollar cut already proposed in Congress would hurt. Any deeper slice off the $7,900,000,000 asked by President Truman would endanger the nation's security, he said.

Taft promptly replied that even a slash of two billions would not imperil the program or U. S. security. After telling this to reporters, Taft said in a Hartford, Conn., speech: "I don't think the American people ought to run the world (or would) be good at it if they tried."

Connally, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, had asked Eisenhower's views. He released their message exchange Thursday after Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, who seeks the Democratic nomination as president, cabled Eisenhower. Russell wanted to know if the general thought $6,000,000,000 approved by Connally's committee would cover the cost of European defenses.

Truman Stand Unchanged

President Truman told his news conference Thursday he has not budged in support of the civil rights plank adopted four years ago by the Democratic party. The resultant Southern revolt then cost Truman 39 electoral votes in the 1948 presidential race.

Key Southern lawmakers, in view of Truman's pat stand, disagreed as to whether civil rights differences can be patched up. Sens. Burnet Maybank of South Carolina and Walter George of Georgia said they expected a compromise and a united party by general election time. Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, however, said he sees little difference between the 1948 and 1952 situations.

Russell, in a press club speech, sharply denounced proposals for a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission, core of the dispute. FEPC would ban job discrimination against Negroes and other minorities.

Truman also told reporters he reserves his right as an American citizen to say who he would like as the next president. He declined, however, to express a choice at this time.

Other Developments

Politics otherwise:

In Tonopah today, Nevada Republicans and Democrats open two-day conventions to pick the state's 10-vote Democratic and 12-vote Republican delegations. Retired Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, a Taft leader, was keynote speaker at the GOP meeting and Eisenhower boosters commented: "It looks like they've pulled a fast one."

Illinois Democrats, at a Springfield convention Thursday, praised their Gov. Adlai Stevenson as "ideally qualified" for president. They approved such a resolution over Stevenson's protests that he is running only for re-election as governor.

New York Gov. Thomas Dewey told his state's 96-vote Republican delegation not to vote for him at any time during the nominating convention. Dewey, the GOP candidate in 1944 and 1948, said he is all-out for Eisenhower this time.

Finds Billfold Lost Year Ago In Garden

One young gardener near Marion got an early yield from his garden this week.

It was a billfold he had lost while planting the garden last year about this time.

The finder was Roger Campbell, who resides on the Smeltzer road, south of Marion.

Tuesday, while setting out plants in the garden which had been plowed just recently, he came across the billfold. At first glance he thought it was just a piece of corn stalk but upon closer examination found it to be the lost billfold.

He believes there was between $10 and $15 in the billfold. He hasn't opened it because the billfold has deteriorated and in opening it, the money might be destroyed.

After losing the billfold last year, bank officials warned him if ever he found it that he shouldn't open it to the air, explaining that if he did the air might further disintegrate the money.

He plans to send the billfold to the Federal Reserve Bank in Cleveland for examination.

7 Marion Men Back From Korea

Seven Marion servicemen are among the 3,199 Army and National Guard veterans of Korean combat who arrived in San Francisco, Calif., on the Navy transport Gen. William Black, Wednesday, The Associated Press reported today.

The Marion men on their way home are Sf. Nurschel Blanton, 1040 Cheney Ave.; M/Sgt. Robert E. Ferriman, 145 Lincoln Ave.; Pfc. Marvin Large, 1020 Bryant St.; Sgt. Winfred B. Group OKs Nomination Of McGranery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved the nomination of Federal Judge James P. McGranery of Philadelphia to be Attorney general. The vote was 8 to 4.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said opponents of the nomination had obtained permission to file a minority report. He said he would carry the fight to the Senate floor.

Hold 10-Minute Truce Session

MUNSAN, KOREA (AP) — Deadlocked Korean truce negotiators met for only 10 minutes today. A U.N. Command spokesman said the Reds probably awaited new instructions from higher up.

The 10 months old negotiations are stalled over the issue of prisoner exchange, the only major block in the path of an armistice.

After today's brief session, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, Allied spokesman, said he did not think the Communists have had an opportunity to "get new instructions."

Red Jets Attack Allied Raiders

SEOUL, KOREA (AP)—Twelve fast Red jets swept down on eight rail-wrecking Allied F-80 Shooting Stars today and one of the Reds was reported damaged in the ensuing fight.

The Fifth Air Force did not say how the comparatively slow F-80s fared. Allied losses, if any, are announced weekly.

The battle was fought near Kusong, 30 miles south of the Yalu River.

Air Traffic Hardest Hit By Oil Strike

DENVER (AP) — Scarcity of high-octane aviation gasoline today ranged as the most serious effect of the nine-day-old nationwide oil strike.

There seemed little chance for immediate settlement. A possibility the strike may be extended was voiced in Denver by O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO).

The major hope seems to be a meeting May 13 between the Wage Stabilization Board and representatives of 22 striking AFL, CIO and independent unions and management of the struck refineries and pipelines.

The pinch on aviation fuel has been widely felt. Air France announced flight will be cut by 50 per cent unless the quota for trans-Atlanitc carriers is increased. The line has 20 flights weekly. Trans-Canada Air Lines reduced schedules of about 40 daily flights between Canada and New York, Boston, Cleveland, Chicago and Seattle.

A 40 per cent slash in aviation gasoline has been ordered by the government. The Air Force has reduced training flight hours. Military and commercial lines report shortages are affecting operations overseas and in the territories.

Bond Issue Is Sold For New Hospital

2 Per Cent Interest, $12,386 Premium Bid Wins Award

Bonds for raising the community's share of funds needed for construction of the new Marion General Hospital were sold today.

They were sold by the Marion County Board of Commissioners to Halsey, Stuart and Co., Inc. of Chicago, Ill. on their bid of two per cent interest and a premium of $12,386.20.

The bond issue totals $1,700,000. The rest of the cost of the $2,500,000 hospital is to be borne by the federal government. A grant of $800,000 has been promised and will become available after July 1, it was reported. Construction cannot begin until all the money is available.

Other bidders on the $1,700,000 bond issue and theid bids are as follows:

Baxter Williams and Co. of Cleveland, two per cent interest, $10,257.77 premium.

Union Securities Corp. of New York City, 2¼ per cent, $36,720 premium.

Harriman Ripley and Co. of Chicago, 2¼ per cent, $35,326 premium.

Northern Trust Co. of Chicago, 2¼ per cent interest, $34,508 premium.

The next step is printing of the bonds, which will be completed in about two weeks. As soon as that is done, the money will be received by the Board of Commissioners and it will be made available to the Board of Hospital Commissioners.

The bonds were sold by the County Commissioners because payment of the debt will be made by general taxation against property in the entire county.

Sale Conditions Favorable

The bid of the Chicago firm which was awarded the bonds was reported the best which could have been received within the last few years.

Bonding company attorneys who attended the meeting informed the County Commissioners and County Attorney Ralph Carhart that the market now is the most favorable from a seller's standpoint that it has been for several years.

The bond bids were opened Thursday at noon in the office of the commissioners at the courthouse. At that time bonding company attorneys conferred with the Commissioners and Carhart and explained their bids and gave other information. The commissioners did not make the award until today, when with Attorney Carhart present they made the award.

With each bid was a required certified check for $2,000.

The bonds will be issued in $1,000 denominations and are to be dated June 1. The last of the bonds will mature in 1972.

Govt. Set To Approve Higher Food Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Substantial increases in food prices, ranging from one to several cents a package on a long list of items may be approved by the government within the next few days.

Price control officials said the increases probably will apply to such things as concentrated coffee, dry cereals, crackers, canned fruits, vegetables and soups, tuna and salmon and some canned meats.

An official told a reporter some items in 33 of the 36 classes of packaged groceries covered by the food price orders may be given higher ceilings. The method and amount of boost in percentage margins for grocers now is being studied at the highest Office of Price Stabilization levels.

One official said the increases are necessary to keep grocers' earnings at a fair level. He said studies have shown that earnings before taxes, especially of chain food stores, are below levels that would entitle them to a price increase.

Chain Store to Benefit

The margin increases under consideration would give the 12-billion-dollar-a-year grocery industry about a 1 per cent hike in dollar volume sales.

Primarily the increase would benefit chain groups, but they also would apply to the smaller independent stores and to wholesalers. An official said no exact data is available on earnings of wholesalers but "there is some deficiency in this group of food dealers."

OPS also disclosed results of a nationwide survey of grocery margins and earnings will be completed about June 15. When the data is ready for review, an official said, another round of increases may be necessary for many types of foods.

The current increases being considered, as well as any that may be made after June 15, have no connection with a recent Emergency Court of Appeals decision holding benefits of the Capehart Amendment apply to all distributors, including food dealers.

Another Boost Possible

Unless the Supreme Court overturns this decision, OPS officials have said it may mean still another hike in food prices. The Capehart amendment requires OPS to permit new ceilings figured on the basis of pre-Korean prices plus cost increases from June 24, 1950 through last July 26.

OPS has held the amendment applied only to manufacturers and processors. Safeway Stores, Inc., big food chain, challenged this contention. The emergency court upheld Safeway's claim that the benefit of higher ceilings applies to all business concerns.

Fremont Firm Enters Low Building Bid

Training School To Get Power Plant, 2 New Dormitories

The Steinle - Wolfe Construction Co. of Fremont entered low bid of $1,232,232 for general construction on a building project at the Marion Training School, the Associated Press reported today.

The bid was entered on a contract for construction of two dormitories, a power house and three buildings for observations and admissions, recreation and custodial care. The buildings will be built as part of a $3 million construction program at the school.

Bids were opened Thursday in the state architect's office. Samuel Linzell, state director of public works, reported a complete list of the bids would not be available until sometime next week. He said the bids were complicated and a final tabulation was being held up. Linzell said the bids all appeared to be "well under" the estimated cost.

The bids received Thursday were on the first phase of a proposed building program at the Training School which is expected to cost approximately $3 million. One other low bid on the phase was announced by Linell. The International Chimney Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., entered a low bid of $22,873 for construction of the chimney on the power plant.

Separate bids were received on plumbing, heating ventilating and electrical work, the AP reported.

June Draft Call Lowest of Year

COLUMBUS (AP) — State Selective Service headquarters today issued the lowest draft call of the year today—a June total of 558 men.

Previous 1952 low was 1,028 for May and the high was 4,903 for January.

The June call is for draft registrants 20 years of age or more at the time of induction—unless they are volunteers or delinquents.

Quotas include Crawford 2, Delaware 5, Hardin 3, Marion 2, Morrow 2, Union 2 and Wyandot 2.

Dayton Hears Harriman On Foreign Policy

DAYTON (AP)—Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman Thursday night told the Dayton Council on World Affairs that America faces a choice of either peace or war.

He warned "This is a time when hesitation or failure to act can be just as disastrous to peace as an act of aggression."

Harriman, candidate for the Democratic nomination for president said he favored the following points for foreign policy:

1. Continuation of the Point 4 program.
2. Continued military and economic aid to free nations.
3. Prompt checking of Russian aggression.
4. Use of German troops in Western European army.
5. A more powerful "Voice of America."

"Some people say we can't afford this," he continued, "but never in history has our nation been so strong economically." Harriman added "we are much more secure today (than in 1945 when he was U. S. ambassador to Russia) . . . . . and the prospects for peace are good."

He said America has taken the initiative in foreign policy despite talk that our policy has been one of containment of Russia.

Secret Details Disclosed

Army Secretary Pace Tells of Atomic Gun

NEW YORK (AP)—An atomic gun developed by the U.S. Army was described Thursday as an accurate and devastating weapon, providing field commanders with tremendous "finger - tip" fire power--and heralding a new era in the waging of war.

The description of this country's first atomic artillery weapon —a gun that can "hit its target under any weather conditions and give ground troops the kind of devastating close support never before available in wartime"—came from Army Secretary Frank Pace.

Pace said the new weapon "is essentially an artillery piece—but with immeasurably greater power than any artillery hitherto known."

Such atomic weapons," he added, eventually will bring "significant changes" in the Army's traditional mission of closing with and destroying an enemy.

Revealed in Speech

Pace's claim for the weapon came in a speech before a meeting of the National Wool Manufacturers Association.

The weapon has been tested by the Army with a non-atomic ammunition but official specifications of the gun remained a secret until Thursday night.

Pace, in disclosing for the first time some of the weapon's specifications, gave this picture of the gun:

It weighs about 75 tons but is highly mobile and is carried on a platform suspended between two engine cabs at its front and rear.

It can travel at a speed of about 35 miles per hour on highways—and it can cross bridges "which

Gross Hints At Cover Up In Graft Scandal

Ex-Bookie Says He Told Authorities Of 'Higher Ups' Involved

NEW YORK (AP)—Ex-bookie Harry Gross says he gave authorities the names of "higher men" who have not been identified publicly in the widening police graft scandal.

"Maybe somebody got a piece of change," he figures.

Gross made the statement Thursday in testimony at the departmental trial of five policemen accused of taking his graft and perjuring themselves at a previous department trial.

The ex-bookie was under cross-examination by defense counsel, and faced more questioning today.

Gross criticized the office of Brooklyn district attorney Miles F. McDonald, who smashed his 20 million-dollar-a-year bookmaking ring in September, 1950.

"I gave the district attorney testimony against men higher than these defendants," Gross declared.

"If they weren't named in the indictments as co-conspirators, that isn't my fault. . . . Maybe somebody got a piece of change."

Gross apparently referred to the graft indictments on which 18 suspended or retired policemen went on trial in Brooklyn last year. Gross' refusal to testify wrecked the criminal trial and also wrecked the departmental trial of a number of policemen.

Denies Deal

Gross, who has been in a penitentiary since last September, denied Thursday that the city corporation counsel's office had promised him anything for opening up on the witness stand now. The corporation counsel's office is pressing charges against the five policemen.

But the 36-year-old ex-bookie said he hoped for consideration, as a result of a statement by Dis-

6 Pact Nations OK Draft Of Defense Treaty

PARIS (AP) — The welding of Western Europe's military might into a single army against aggression moved a formal step nearer completion today, but with long strides still ahead before the projected six-nation force is ready for Gen. Matthew Ridgway's European command.

Representatives of the six nations — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — met at the French foreign ministry this afternoon to initial the almost-complete draft of a treaty uniting them in a European Defense Community.

The action signified their agreement, after 15 months of negotiations, on most clauses of the treaty. The next step will be a meeting of the six countries' foreign ministers later this month to settle the remaining points of disagreement and sign the treaty.

High hurdles still will face the plan after that, before the projected one-uniform army of some 40 divisions can take the field under the military commander for the

Spurns Red Terms From Prison Camp

Relieves Gen. Dodd, Captive Commander On Koje, of Duty

SEOUL (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet said tonight he will use force if necessary "at an early date" to free Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd from Red war prisoners who seized him on Koje Island two days ago.

At the same time, the U.S. Eighth Army chief announced that Dodd no longer was the commander of the unruly prison off the southeast tip of Korea. Van Fleet also ordered an investigation of the incident.

Whether Dodd might be returned to his command after release was not made clear by Van Fleet. He said Dodd henceforth was talking to the Reds as an individual, not as camp commander.

The camp was placed under the command of Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson "with full authority and command to handle the situation," Van Fleet added.

Van Fleet declared he never would give in to the Reds' "unreasonable" demands for special privileges in return for the release of Dodd.

One thing that may be staying the hand of prison authorities now is that they do not know in what tent or building Dodd is being held.

While Dodd has sent out written messages and has talked by telephone, authorities have been unable to trace the telephone line. It runs from an undisclosed spot. The Reds set up the phone lines themselves.

Other Compounds Quiet

Van Fleet said other compounds on the sprawling island were quiet. About 80,000 Red prisoners are being held there.

He emphasized that the Eighth Army had taken "sufficient action to make available all means necessary" to free Dodd, but did not amplify his statement.

The U.S. Eighth Army commander made his statement after a flying trip to rebellious Koje, off the southern tip of Korea.

Van Fleet was under orders from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, "to use whatever force is necessary," to free Dodd without delay.

The 52-year-old Dodd has been a prisoner since Wednesday, when North Korean POWs seized him at the gates of a compound.

Ridgway said the Communists were demanding "phones, permission to organize, writing paper and some other things" before they would release Dodd.

Details Meager

The Army released only meager details of the new rebellion at Koje and kept newsmen from going there. First announcement of the kidnaping came early Thursday.

Van Fleet said "we have not yet been able to determine why the guards didn't rush in for a rescue attempt. That question will be answered by a military board of inquiry."

He expressed confidence that Dodd would not be harmed. The Eighth Army commander attached considerable significance to Dodd's own expressed optimism over an Army telephone which kept him in contact with American guards outside the stockade.

"However," Van Fleet said, "if necessary, force will be used to effect his release."

He said the bulk of the prisoner's demands were "unreasonable and cannot and will not be granted."

An Eighth Army spokesman said Dodd and Lt. Col. Wilbur Robert Raven of Newton, Tex., were seized while standing at the gate of a prison compound talking to leaders of the 6,000 Communist prisoners.

"The gate was a wide one," the spokesman said. "Dodd was standing in the center of the gate.

"When the prisoners grabbed him, it was an organized mob and he was swept inside.

Fugitives From State Hospital Still At-Large

CLEVELAND (AP)— The unsuccessful hunt for two mental hospital escapees kept southwest Cuyahoga County in a tizzy of doorlocking and rumors today.

Tips from nervous residents so far have netted police one milkman, one gas meter reader and two tourists from Boston, all released after questioning.

But the pair who overpowered two guards and fled from the Lima State Hospital for the criminal insane Monday night still were at large.

At Strongsville, where the runaways abandoned the second of their two escape cars, Police Chief Robert Poots said he felt they were "still around here" and would appear in search of food.

The reports of sighting the fugitives were not confined to that area, however. One tip sent Cleveland police hustling to an East Side rooming house, and another came from West 25th Street near downtown Cleveland.

Dr. E. Stanley Anderson, assistant superintendent of the Lima institution, said both fugitives have split personalities and at times suffer delusions.

Although they are unpredictable in their actions, Dr. Anderson said, they might know what they are doing "until they get in a jam"

Little Journeys

Want Somewhere To Go?

Motorists are always looking for places to visit in spring and summer. Here is one of a series of brief articles on such places not far from Marion.

By EMORY ANDERSON

Wyandot Indian Mission

The Wyandot Mission at Upper Sandusky is a monument to a man who worked during his life to bring to God the Wyandot Indians who inhabited Wyandot County until 1843.

He was John Stewart, a lay preacher whose devotions to his avowed duty inspired a successor to build a mission house in his memory.

Stewart worked with a defeated nation of once proud, fierce warriors, that had been placed on land less than half the size of Wyandot County.

They had struggled with the white man for over 100 years before they were finally moved from their reservation in northern Wyandot County to lands in the west in 1843.

JOHN STEWART was a mulatto. He was also crippled, and had been abandoned by his parents while he was still a boy. He was born in Virginia in Powhattan County.

His parents left him when they moved west into Kentucky in the first few years of the 19th century.

He started west in search of them and while crossing the mountains he was robbed of his money and left penniless in a great woods.

HE CONTINUED on his journey, however, and came to Marietta, O., where he lived for some time. There he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church and soon became active in church work.

Still later he moved west again, perhaps lured by the call of great empty spaces, and urged by a missionary zeal. Stewart walked to the land of the Delawares. They were then a defeated tribe, but still maintaining some form of tribal law and custom.

THE DAY STEWART arrived the Indians were having a tribal dance and they paid little heed to the crippled man standing at the edge of the clearing.

A pause came in the dance and Stewart started singing. The dance stoppped and the Indians listened to his voice and were moved.

Captain Pipe, son of the great Chief Pipe who had ordered Col. Crawford killed a few years before, asked Stewart to stay.

Stewart had little to offer except a clear voice, and a devotion to God. He prayed and converted and baptised the Indians. He stayed seven years until he died in 1823 of tuberculosis.

THE PRESENT stone mission building at Upper Sandusky was built the next year by the Rev. J. B. Finley. Stewart's work among the Indians marked the beginning of the missionary work of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The mission building stands in a cemetery at the north end of Fifth St. in Upper Sandusky. The building is maintained in good repair. The interior remains much the way it was when it was first built.

Today's Birthday

FRED ASTAIRE, born May 10, 1899, in Omaha, as Fred Austerlitz, son of a traveling salesman.

Dancer and actor, he is credited with having revolutionized Hollywood's technique for film musicals.

He started taking ballet lessons with his sister Adele when he was 4.

Their parents took them to New York for training and they soon appeared as a famous team on vaudeville.

Upper Firms Awarded Two School Contracts

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Neiderkohr Brothers, Upper Sandusky building contractors, and Herman Stephan, Upper Sandusky electrical contractor, were successful bidders on a proposed new addition to the Sycamore School when the Sycamore board of education opened bids recently.

Neiderkohr's bid was $64,000. Stephan Electric was low on the electrical contract with a bid of $5,482. Carl's Plumbing and Heating of Marion was low on the plumbing and heating contract with a figure of $11,173.55.

The improvement of Sycamore will include four new class rooms, extra toilets, extended corridor and other alterations in an addition to the east end of the present structure.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Officers of the Fite Memorial Baptist Willing Workers Class, headed by Mrs. Frank Bailey as president, were installed at a meeting Tuesday night at the Bailey home on Davids St. Opening devotions were by Mrs. Leona Sanderson and Mrs. George Simpkins, and prayer was by Mrs. Norman D. Renn, Mrs. Lulu Spain, the outgoing president, conducted the installation. Contest awards went to Mrs. Spain, Mrs. Simpkins and Mrs. Sanderson. A guessing box award went to Mrs. James Lee. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Janice Lingrel on Sheridan Rd.

SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

When the Fite Memorial Baptist Women's Missionary Society met recently, Mrs. Leona Sanderson was hostess in her home at 482 Davids St. Devotions were by Mrs. Norman Renn on "Light." Prayer was by Mrs. Arthur Miley. Mrs. Salo Bayles presented a program on "Mothers" assisted by Mrs. Floyd Dennis, Mrs. Fern Iams, Mrs. Huldah Taylor and Mrs. George Darling. A song was by Mrs. Harvey Woy. Mrs. Glenn Riddle closed the meeting, and lunch was served by Mrs. Iams, Mrs. Lawrence Hatcher and Mrs. Lydia Collins.

CIRCLE HOLDS ELECTION

At a recent meeting of Wesley Methodist Circle 2, Mrs. Beth Monk was re-elected chairman. Mrs. H. C. Wendler was elected secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Maude Roberts, assistant. Mrs. R. G. Smallwood was re-elected chaplain, and Mrs. Mary Clark, Mrs. Lucille Edington, and Mrs. O. W. McElhaney were named on the calling committee. Mrs. Hester Habluetzel entertained in her home on N. State St. Devotions were by Mrs. Smallwood, and Mrs. Edington reviewed part of the study book. Mrs. Lois Thompson and Mrs. Alberta Nash were guests. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. McElhaney on Franconia Ave.

McGranery

month to succeed J Howard McGrath in the cabinet post.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) announced the committee vote following a brief closed session.

He declined to give the votes of individual committee members, but it was unofficially reported that the four votes against confirmation were cast by Ferguson and Senators Watkns (R-Utah), Jenner (R-Ind) and Henrickson (R-NJ).

McCarran said Sen Wiley (R-Wis) was absent and did not vote.

Committee members questioned McGranery at length about whether he thought the President had any such "inherent" powers as he asserted when he seized the strike-threatened steel industry.

McGranery said the President must exhaust the powers given him by law before he can stake any claim to inherent power, but he also contended that in an extreme emergency he can act to preserve the nation.

Subsequently, the committee heard several witnesses from Philadelphia. Some strongly opposed his nomination while others praised him highly and urged that he be confirmed.

We The Satellites—V

Real Boss in Bulgaria, As in Other Captive European Nations, Is Stalin

In Bulgaria, the Communists are in the saddle as they are in all the satellites of Europe, but here, too, one Communist doesn't know tle tighter. Here is the fifth and last of a series on the satellites, tle tighter. Here is the first and last of a series on the saellites, written by William L. Ryan after scores of interviews in 10 countries.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Chervenkov? . . . . Chankov? . . . . . Panchevsky? . . . . .

There's a lot of guessing about who is the real boss of the Communists in Bulgaria. But the Bulgarian people don't guess. They know there is only one boss, and his name is Stalin.

In Bulgaria, most Sovietized of all the captive countries of Europe, the premier acts like a vest pocket edition of the dictator in Moscow . . . But Premier Vulko Chervenkov must be uneasy.

Like Stalin, the stocky little Chervenkov lets the whole population know when he ventures out of doors. Just like the Kremlin escorts, the heavily armed, bullet-proof cars which escort the Bulgarian premier open their sirens and careen down the highway at breakneck speed.

The Chervenkov motorcade is well known. The premier himself rides in a Soviet Zis 110, Moscow version of the Packard. The escort cars are Packards, one old, the others somewhat newer. All are crammed with bodyguards.

When the motorcade wheels out of the Villa-Balbanov, where Chervenkov lives in luxury, and screams down the Boulevard Rusko, all traffic comes to a stop—just as it does when Stalin's car leaves the Kremlin. The route is lined by a forest of heavily armed sentries at military posts. Chervenkov is on his way.

He may be on his way out.

As in other captive countries, there is a struggle going on at the top in Bulgaria, too. Many European sources express belief that Chervenkov, 50-year-old professional Communist with Moscow training, is simply a figurehead. The power behind the scenes, they say, is Georgi Chankov, a deputy prime minister—and behind him, the Russians.

CHERVENKOV, rough-and-tumble Communist veteran of many jails since he joined the party in 1919 as a youngster, is related by marriage to the late Georgi Dimitrov, the old Bolshevik Bulgarian premier who went to Moscow for a "cure" and never returned.

Today, Dimitrov's followers are dropping by the wayside, one by one. Another show trial may not be far off. Recently there has been a severe purge of cabinet functionaries and high officials, including Boris Taskov, president of the State Reserves Department which stocks strategic materials; Kyril Dramaliev, a Dimitrov Communist intellectual in the same department, and Prof. Sava Ganovski, a Dimitrov man who headed the Science and Culture Division of the cabinet.

Chankov may be behind this or possibly the man behind it all is Peter Panchevsky, Moscow's viceroy who, as defense minister, runs the Bulgarian army. He is a Soviet general.

In this respect, it is significant that Taskov was fired shortly after he dared criticize Vice Premier Ivan Mikhailov, who is the eyes of Moscow in Sofia, even supervising Chervenkov. Mikhailov, too, was a Soviet general.

All the old intelligentsia of the party is being weeded out. This means the Dimitrov people. They are disappearing in favor of the Soviet fanatics. All the moderates are gone. Many of these old Communists would leave the party if they dared. But they would be accused of "traichokostovism." That is another form of deviation for which former Vice Premier Traicho Kostov was executed.

THE OPPOSITION parties in Bulgaria long ago were stamped out after Nikola Petkov, the peasant party leader, was hanged in 1947 on a charge of anti-state activity. Nor is there any religious voice heard save that of the priests of the dominated Orthodox Church. Three years ago, to the accompaniment of outraged cries of anger from the western world, Bulgaria's Communists tried and condemned to prison the leading Protestant clergy of the country. Thereafter, Moscow moved in swiftly.

While Moscow tightens the screws, the Bulgarian people find themselves worse off every day. Their economy is completely ruled by the Soviet Union. The Communist Central Committee dictates to the peasants on such matters as depth of plowing, means of breeding cattle, methods and time of sowing and harvesting.

Farmers' wheat in that agricultural country is seized by the government at low prices. Bread is a government monopoly, retailed at high prices and tremendous profit.

Collective farms are operated under the Soviet brigade system. The brigade is broken down into "links" or "zvenos" of 10 workers each, under a zvenovod, or leader. A brigadier, always a Communist, supervises the brigade. He is watched by another Communist assigned especially for political work.

The principal entertainment in the farm village is the lecture. These are innumerable, and attendance is compulsory. Typical subjects are loyalty to Stalin and technical farm matters.

Whenever there is resistance to collective farming, the militia is busy. In some instances the militia surrounds a village, arrests the citizens, loads them into cattle cars and transports them to the provinces for forced labor.

THE SPLIT between the people and the party widens daily. Bulgars resent the concerted drive to Russify them. Though closely tied to Russia by language and racial similarities, they have a tradition of independent spirit which balks at Russian domination.

But their army is fully under Russian control. All military schools have Soviet instructors. The commander of the Sofia military academy is a Soviet general. Soviet specialists hold top posts in factories, agricultural enterprises and the like, with salaries 10 times those of Bulgars.

Deportations of large numbers of people are reported beginning anew, particularly from areas near the western and southern frontiers. Many non-Communists are being expelled from big cities to make room for industrial workers.

The former peasant premier of Bulgaria, Georgi M. Dimitrov—no relation to the Communist Dimitrov—predicts that many Communists, fearing the peasants, will "try to adapt themselves to the peasant resistance because of their fears of tomorrow."

Dimitrov lives in exile in the United States and is secretary general of the International Peasant Union. He says:

"Even some of the Communists believe in our final victory. I feel strongly that some day we will go back, that we will get together and build up a real democracy of independent people, in full cooperation with our neighbors, looking forward to the day when the eastern and central European peoples can come to a real federation."

Far from giving up hope, the leaders abroad of the enslaved peoples in eastern Europe cling to the belief the day of reckoning is coming: the day the Communist empire will fall apart.

"We are going back some day," one of these exiled leaders told me "When we do, there is many a Communist who will throw himself on the mercy of the peasants, knowing he will find the spark of humanity that the Communists do not possess."

MISSING. Col. Albert Schinz (above), deputy wing commander of the 51st Fighter-Interceptor Wing, has been missing since an air battle over northwestern Korea May 1, the Fifth Air Force has announced. Schinz, 33, of Ottawa, Ill., disappeared in a fight with communist MIG-15 jets in MIG alley, the Air Force said

Easy Payments

SUSPENSION of credit controls by the Federal Reserve Board will interest you if:

You are a businessman on easy-payment plans to keep your inventory moving;

A potential customer relying on easy payments to make your prospective purchases;

A normally curious American citizen keeping track of the ebb and flow of the economic tides.

It finally has been made clear by the movement of these tides that the United States is not going to be engulfed in inflation, unless a major war creates panic-buying.

It has been made clear that the progressive boosting of wage rates of strongly organized producing groups is not an automatic guarantee of inflation. There is a strong possibility of deflation with hourly wage rates boosted to an all-time high.

And finally it has been made clear that consumers, as always, hold the ultimate power of economic decision. When they run out of the wherewithal and the will to purchase goods, something must be done; something will be done.

Making easy payments easier is a move in that direction. Chances are it is only the beginning of a series of moves calculated to stimulate a market for goods no longer being distributed in a sellers' market.

Decisions!

HARRY TRUMAN, Philip Murray and their field generals in the steel dispute bear a resemblance to those Chinese generals who knew how to fight endless battles of maneuver without bloodshed.

The generals' aim was to keep things moving until the opposition was in a corner, then demand surrender. But since the men who run the steel industry are paid for being a little brighter than ordinary it remains to be seen how this is going to work against them.

The steel strike, which Mr. Murray said had ceased to be a strike and had become a stoppage, has been called off, apparently at the request of Mr. Truman. This seems to put steel management in a corner.

It is assumed the next step will be an agreement between the government and the steel industry to raise the price of steel to cover the costs of wage increases which will be agreed on between the steel industry and the union. Otherwise, there would be no point in calling off the strike which changed into a work stoppage when legalists finally decided the government still was in possession of steel properties it had been ordered to turn back by other legalists. Someone will have to decide what to do next.

As Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, bureaucratic boss of the industry, said in a moment of despair the other day while ordering lunch, "the decisions we have to make around here!" we know how he must have felt.

Any Consumers

WITH only 10 dissenting votes, the House of Representatives passed a bill on Thursday to permit retailers and manufacturers to agree on minimum selling prices for fair-trade articles.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, makes these agreements binding on non-signers as well as signers. It follows the Supreme Court decision of a year ago knocking out this self-same non-signer practice under the Miller-Tydings act. After that decision, a department store price war in New York City gave consumers one of the thrills of a shopping lifetime.

The bill passed by the House on Thursday also allows the setting of maximum prices is not the issue. The issue is whether or not retailers can and should be restrained from moving goods off their shelves in a way which might give consumers one of those rare thrills of a shopping lifetime—if that is what the retailers want to do.

Naturally, among retailers there is a strong incentive to keep this from happening. It goes without saying that the controversial bill which the House has sent to the Senate reflects the attitude of trade, not the attitude of consumers. Were any consumers consulted?

Every Dog Has His Day

A SEASONAL roundup of dog-bite cases suggests a seasonal rationalization of this touchy situation.

Things being as they are, it is the dog that gets blamed when a human being is bitten, especially if the victim is a juvenile.

But there is a dog's side to the biting situation, too—though dogs have no voice to describe it.

The great majority of biting cases grow out of conflict between human behavior and the canine instinct to bite when cornered, angered or frightened.

Since dogs are part of the animal kingdom and are on earth to stay, despite the fervent wishes of those who would like to get rid of them, it behooves human beings to know enough about the normal behavior of dogs to live with them safely.

Tied dogs should not be molested. Eating dogs should be given a wide berth. No dog should be touched unless it first has shown some sign of friendship. In short, few dogs will bite without what they believe to be provocation. Get rid of the provocation and most dog-bite cases can be eliminated from the spring and summer news.

Views of Sen. Russell

By David Lawrence

Answers Quiz on Issue of "Natural Law"

WASHINGTON

WITH ALL the questions being addressed nowadays to presidential candidates, none perhaps will parallel those asked of Senator Russell of Georgia, Democrat, by F. Gordon O'Neill, for 17 years editor of "The Monitor," Catholic weekly in San Francisco.

The questions, seeking to learn how the Georgia senator stands on the issue of "natural law," were sent because, as Mr. O'Neill phrased it, "this nation is being divided between those who believe man has God-given rights and duties and those who teach and are taught that there are no unalienable rights but only privileges granted by the state."

Mr. O'Neill has just distributed Senator Russell's answers to the heads of all the Catholic dioceses of the United States. He recalled that Senator Russell, who is a Methodist, supported Al Smith in 1928 and pointed out that the Georgia senator is one of the men who understands the adjustments that must be made in a free country in order that Protestants, Catholics and Jews may work together on fundamentals and keep socialism from deriving any religious sanction in America.

Here are the questions by Mr. O'Neill and the answers by Senator Russell:

1. "Q. Do you believe that men are created? If answer is yes, please state in your own words what you mean by creation, and who the creator is. This is a practical consideration because there is much material pantheism with consequent moral irresponsibility prevalent in this country.

"A. Man is created. He is created by the Lord God Almighty.

2. "Q. Do you believe that men are equal? In what sense?

"A. Man is equal in the sight of God, for God is no respector of persons.

3. "Q. Do you believe that men have God-given rights, that no government may deny to them? This is a practical question because it is being taught in law schools that man has no rights, but only privileges granted by the state.

"A. Men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, such as the right to worship God as he sees fit.

4. "Q. Do you believe that man was created to live according to the law of his rational nature, or is everything he feels like doing justified?

"A. Man is to live by his conscience, while abiding by the guidance of God.

5. "Q. Does the citizen exist for the aggrandizement of the state, or is the state but an instrument of the citizen for the common good of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness?

"A. A citizen does not exist for the aggrandizement of the state. He does have duties to the state.

6. "Q. Do parents hold the first sovereignty over their own minor children subject to their meeting certain government-demanded minimum standards for health, education and conduct, or has the government superior rights to those of parents?

"A. The parents has the first right. Both parents and children have responsibilities to the government.

7. "Q. Should the local community do for itself what it can before passing its burden to the state? Should the state do for itself what it can before passing the burden to the federal government? Or should sovereignty be transferred in all matters to the federal government?

"A. The local community should do everything that it can to attain self-sufficiency before calling upon the state. The state should exhaust all of its means before calling on the federal government. The transfer of all sovereignty and power to the federal government will, in my opinion, ultimately result in the loss of our liberties.

8. "Q. Except for defense from foreign foes, should taxes for services grow so onerous as to prevent parents from having more than one or two children? Reference is to the 13 Russells.

"A. Taxes should never be exacted for an amount greater than is absolutely needed for the preservation and function of the government. It may well be worth while to do without some things in order to have others, more important, including children.

9. "Q. Should there be a union of minds for the enhancement of the common good between the various American governments and the various religions in the United States, or should government absolutely ignore religions?

"A. The spiritual strength of the American people has sustained our nation in some of its darkest hours. A revival and renewal of that spiritual strength will enable us to survive present dangers. While I am opposed to the establishment of a religion by the state, I believe that any government which ignores the strength derived from religion, as I interpret this word, is doomed to decay and destruction. Any sane government in this country will recognize the importance of spiritual values while refraining from usurping the functions of religion."

Sacrifice To Spite

By TRUMAN TWILL

ONE OF THE THINGS TV will do increasingly, we suppose, is to transmit more off-the-cuff interviews like the recent one with a steel-mill worker who wanted to beat up Federal Judge David A. Pine for ruling Harry Truman out of bounds.

In a more rational era, an American who popped off in that fashion would have done so in the privacy of his own home, or perhaps the corner saloon; he wouldn't have been merchandised to millions with a point of view unworthy of a patriot.

But in this less rational era that sort of thing may be a better reflection of circumstances as they are than was possible in the old days when things were left unsaid because they were better left unsaid. Many an American has been so systematically embittered against a society in which the rights of all citizens are protected by the same laws that he is ready to sacrifice his own rights to feed his own spite.

Not one American in 10,000 will read Judge Pine's important decision. The vast majority will never know nor care that if the Supreme Court upholds the decision it will be a little safer in the future for every American who claims an inalienable right to own what he has won the right to possess—money, his wife, his children, his belongings.

Could it be that Americans who talk so much about the difference between a government of laws and a government of men are only listening to marbles rolling about in their empty heads—that they do not understand what it means?

Unless some men in government have the backbone to reaffirm from time to time that the law still means what it always has meant, other men will contend for their own purposes that it has come to mean something else. The issues they choose for the contending will be picked for the spitefulness they engender. That way the would-be tyrants can be sure most of the suckers never will see the trap for snapping at the bait.

FORGET WHICH SIDE of the steel strike you're on, because the fact is you are in the middle.

There is only one side of the issue of people's vs. politicians' rights that any American can be on—the constitutional side. The Constitution was written for the express purpose of keeping the boys with the bull necks and the big ideas from trampling the God-given right of human beings who wanted to be free from despotism.

Down through the years a thin line of men who knew how to think things through have reasserted that the Constitution still meant what it meant in the beginning. Meanwhile, other men have never tired of trying to torture the language of the Constitution into saying something else—invariably something dictated by a burning issue which offered an excuse to exploit spitefulness.

Please, Mr. Steel-Mill Worker, don't threaten to hang Judge Pine because he had the courage to say no politician can flout the Constitution. The next time the politician might be working the other side of the street. That's why it's so vital to have a government law—so these fellows can't get away with anything. They never tire of trying.

Daily Bible Thought

But we must try to be our righteous selves. In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness."—Psalm 31:1.

Many of the animals classed as carnivorous actually live mostly on plants—the bear being one example.

A Persistent Suitor

Hollywood Meets a Crisis

By George E. Sokolsky

FOR MANY YEARS those who managed the motion picture industry took the position that they were not concerned with the politics of those engaged in the industry; that the only criterion of employment was talent. In 1947, this question became a national issue because of the appearance of "friendly" and "unfriendly" witnesses before the House committee on un-American activities, some of the unfriendly ones going to prison for contempt. It became clear during those hearings that Communists had infiltrated the industry.

The motion picture companies met at the Waldorf-Astoria, where decisions were made not to employ known Communists or those who took advantage of the Fifth Amendment to avoid admitting that they were Communists. This placed the industry in an awkward position legally.

On the other hand, voluntary groups of citizens, acting independently of each other, not only picketed theaters, but also, by word of mouth, denounced certain motion pictures and their personalities. There is no way of combatting such movements of the people, as no one can be forced to spend his money in a theater.

THE TOP MANAGEMENT of the industry, faced by these facts, were compelled to meet this problem by practical measures. Obviously, the presence of Communists, pro-Communists, fellow-travelers and opportunists, who had made bad records for themselves, was encountering a sales resistance.

The industry organized to combat criticism, but most efforts failed because the records of the individuals criticized could only be voided by themselves and their own subsequent conduct.

Beginning last summer, a series of meetings between some motion picture producers and a few active anti-Communists resulted in a formula which is now being tried with a surprising measure of success. This formula may be stated as follows:

▶ As long as such organizations of the people as the American Legion, the Catholic War Veterans, etc. take a definite position on the employment of Communists, pro-Communists, etc. in the motion picture industry, a picture in which they appear is defective and bad business;

▶ No person can clear another of the taint of being favorably disposed to our national enemy, Soviet Russia. Only the person himself, who made the record, can unmake it, by a frank statement of the facts of the relationship;

▶ It is not necessary for such a person to hire anyone to clean him; all that needs to be done is for him to look at his already reported record and to write a letter to his employer stating the facts as he knows or believes them to be;

▶ Such letters are circulated, at first confidentially, and after criticism for the record, among those most active in their opposition to the employment of Communists in motion pictures.

THIS FORUMLA has encountered less resistance than had been anticipated. First tried out by Columbia, it is now in full force at Twentieth Century-Fox and M. G. M. Warner Brothers, R. K. O., and Republic have programs of their own which have been effective.

The simple method of self-confession is more realistic and to the point for so large a number of persons, many of whom have truthful explanations for their acts; some are obviously innocent of bad intent.

The enthusiastic and active cooperation of top management was not anticipated. Thus far, each of the companies adopting the program has used its own methods. The task is not easy because often involved are contractual relations, prospective lawsuits to which the Communists always resort, and loss of revenue on pictures already made. Nevertheless, the program of meeting these problems continues in a day-by-day fashion. There is no reason why any motion picture, radio or television company, any more than any other American enterprise, should employ a known Communist.

Better Race Relations

By Raymond Moley

FT. WORTH

NEVILLE PENROSE of this city, as chairman of the Good Neighbor Commission of the State of Texas, has devised and put into effect a simple but highly effective means of relieving the tensions that have from time immemorial afflicted the mutual relations of the people of Texas and their neighbors in and from the Republic of Mexico.

It is an interesting fact that it has generally taken a war to awaken the American people to the importance of easing the antagonisms that spring up between native Americans and their foreign-born neighbors. In the first World War the so-called Americanization movement was started. That movement in its better forms was designed to assist recent immigrants from the various nations of Europe to adjust themselves to American life and also to teach Americans to understand and appreciate the values brought with them by these strangers within our gates.

It was in the stress of the second World War that Texas seriously and officially acted to improve the state of affairs between the residents of the state who were either born in Mexico or whose forebears were born there and the other citizens of the state. To that end, the governor of the state, Coke Stevenson, appointed a good Neighbor Commission, which began operations with a small grant from Nelson Rockefeller's Federal Office of Inter-American Relations. Later, the state appropriated the funds to continue the work of the Commission. In 1947, this agency was made permanent, and in 1949 Penrose was made chairman.

SUCH AGENCIES as this are not new. Nor is this the first time that active measures have been taken to improve the status of the Mexican-born in the Southwest. The interesting and perhaps original thing about this experiment is the means which Penrose has devised to make the job more efficient.

Realizing that to attempt to eliminate discriminations or other causes or irritation in local communities by bureaucrats moving in from the state capital was inadvisable, he suggested the creation of local groups called Human Relations Councils. There are now 40 or 50 of these, and they are organized under a state council under R. E. Smith, former head of the Good Neighbor Commission. If, for example, complaints come to the Good Neighbor Commission about a restaurant keeper who refuses service to Mexican-born patrons, no effort is made to bring official pressure against him. In fact, that would be impossible as well as impractical. Members of the local Human Relations Council are asked to talk things over with the parties to the dispute and reach

Marion Countians joined others in Ohio in the "Log Cabin and Hard Cider Campaign" of 1840, which also was known as "The Song Campaign." Nearly every Whig could sing and about every tenth one turned poet. Songs were written by the thousands, taking in every phase of principles in the issue between the two parties. These had their effect in forming the opinions of the voters, the results showed.

"Oh, the game warden! I was afraid for a minute you might be the truant officer!"

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mother of the Year

A CHINESE LAUNDRYWOMAN, Mrs. Toy Len Goon, of Portland, Maine, has been chosen America's Mother of the Year and will be so proclaimed at a Waldorf-Astoria dinner Friday night. Widowed, she raised eight children, each making good in the finest American tradition, while running the Portland laundry. Any mother who does her own washing and raises eight kids has her work cut out and one who does the washing for an entire neighborhood and raises 'em shapes up as extraordinary under any system of handicapping in the Motherhood Derby.

There was a time when all mothers were in the laundry business. They automatically entered it immediately after the wedding march. They were knee-deep in washing and ironing most of their lives. And, in addition, they were in the bakery, cleaning, house renovating, and dressmaking businesses. This is no longer true, due partly to household labor-saving devices. Mrs. Toy Len Goon, however, has been in there with the soapsuds and the flatirons all the time.

* * *

The neighborhood Chinese laundry used to be just about the last place to look for a mother of the year. In fact, you could make a tour of them without finding a woman around. Mrs. Goon, however, meets all the specifications and it is about time, we think, that in naming a Mother of the Year, the washing and ironing were taken into consideration.

It is, of course, impossible to say that Mrs. Goon or any other mother is the best in the land of some pretty fine mothers. There are others with big families who have been widowed and made a gallant fight of it. By any cross-section test, the lady looks a winner. She is certainly the only one who not only did all the washing but did it under conditions that opened her work to community review and criticism. (It must be pretty tough to try to look after eight small fry while listening to one man who says he got back only five socks in his wash, to another who complains that there was too much starch in the cuffs and to a third who demands his laundry back without the check.)

There was no time on Mrs. Toy Len Goon's agenda for cocktail lounges, daily attendance at jackpot programs, all the movies, the smarter nightclubs and audience participation entertainments. We doubt if she even took time out to clip a box top and write an essay in twenty-five words telling why no family could know health and happiness without a specific cereal. (Or win a month's vacation in Miami by composing a jingle on a soap that "makes all your laundry problems disappear.")

How about picking a Father of the Year from among the fathers on the committee that shoulders the task of picking the Mothers of the Year?

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Saturday, May 9, 1942.

In nine dynamic words, "The enemy has been repulsed . . . our attacks will continue," Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported at least preliminary victory for the Allies in the great six-day-old battle of the Coral Sea and indicated that the Japanese naval squadrons were in flight.

A total of 32,654 Marion city residents made application for sugar rationing books, 1,837 over the official 1940 census figure for the city, and in the county the registrations ran considerably over the anticipated figures.

Dr. Clovis J. Altmaier of 247 S. State St. left to report for duty at Camp Brant, Ill., for service as a first lieutenant in the army medical corps.

Joseph C. Boltinghouse, who received the degree of bachelor of science in mechanical engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on April 27 in the first wartime commencement, left for Brooklyn, N.Y., after a 10-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Boltinghouse of Uncapher Ave. He had accepted a position as junior engineer with the Sperry Gyroscope Co. of Brooklyn.

Southpaw Don Kay, Harding High School junior, came near repeating his no-hit performance over Galion several days previously in defeating Wapakoneta 17-1 in first round play in the Central district tournament at Kenton. Kay faced only 31 batters in stopping the Wapakoneta team with only three hits. He fanned eight.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Monday, May 9, 1932.

Twenty-three indictments against 19 persons were returned by the Marion County grand jury in its report to Judge George B. Scofield. Included were three murder cases.

C. E. Kelly, Caledonia druggist, celebrated his 80th birthday anniversary. He had been in business in Caledonia 54 years.

A house picnic held at the home of Mrs. Emma Knappenberger on Blaine Ave. marked the close of the study season for the Literature Study Club and also complimented Miss Verna Arth, a member, whose wedding was to take place in the summer.

Miss Mabel Smith was hostess at a shower in her home on Olney Ave., honoring Mrs. Millard Thibaut, a recent bride.

Marion's newly-organized Builders Exchange, dedicated to advancement and encouragement of the building industries and crafts in the city, held its first monthly meeting. W. J. McPeck was president, W. G. Gorton, vice president, Charles A. Raymond, secretary, and Arthur Probst, treasurer.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Florence Chadwick is talking about swimming the Channel both directions non-stop . . . That's how hard it is to make the front pages today.

A few years back a girl could give up after her first mile and her second bowl of soup and be assured of a good press and six pictures in the final edition.

A fellow got up at a DAR meeting in New York the other night and said Betsy Ross did not design the flag and he got three lines on an inside page.

The only way he could make page one today would be to add that not only she didn't design it but she was on strike against the people who did.

I hear three of the ladies at the meeting yawned and a fourth said "I always did say she was over-rated."

* * *

Anyway I don't know when Florence is going to try this new channel venture but it better not be in July when all the candidates take the plunge in Chicago.

Heads of City PTA Installed For New Year

E. E. Holt, Former Superintendent Of Schools, Speaks

Annual joint installation of all Marion PTA units and City Council officers for the new year was held Thursday night at the First Evangelical and Reformed Church. A dinner preceded the meeting and program. About 115 persons, including officers, members and guests, were present. The invocation was spoken by the Rev. J. Paul Goebel, pastor of the First E. and R. Church.

Past presidents of the PTA City Council were special guests and introduced to the group. They included Mrs. John Oborn, who was the first Council president in Marion, Mrs. Frank Knapp, Mrs. Walter Shealey, Mrs. W. E. Orcutt, Mrs. T. D. Bain, Mrs. Robert Craven, Mrs. Richard Plantz, Mrs. Arthur Noble of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Glen Penry.

Guest speaker was E. E. Holt, former superintendent of the Marion city schools and now superintendent of the schools at Springfield. His subject was "So, You're Officers Now." He was introduced by Mrs. Robert Hochstetter, program chairman. Mrs. Holt also was present.

A memorial service for W. E. Orcutt, former principal of the State Street Junior High School who died recently, was conducted by Mrs. Frank Knapp. Special music was given by the Harding sophomore boys quartet.

The installation was in charge of Mrs. Penry, a past president, after which remarks were given by Lester L. Dickey, city school superintendent. Mrs. Dickey also was a guest as was Mrs. Goebel.

Mrs. John Rinnert is president of the City PTA Council.

WEEPING WIFE. Mrs. Patricia Gallagher Moore, 42, weeps bitterly in a police station at Sherman Oaks, Calif., after her arrest on suspicion of murdering her estranged husband, Dr. Telford I. Moore, 44, North Hollywood eye specialist. Dr. Moore was shot through the chest, police said, at the climax of a domestic quarrel. They quoted Mrs. Moore as saying Dr. Moore beat her and knocked her down just before the shooting. A friend is comforting her.

Printers End 2-Week Strike

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—A six weeks strike of AFL printers which halted publication of Rockford's two daily newspapers for the last two weeks was settled Thursday night.

Plans were made immediately to resume publication today.

Agreement on a new contract—the chief issue in the printers' walkout—was between the AFL International Typographical Union and the Rockford Consolidated Newspapers, Inc., publishers of the Morning Star and the afternoon Register-Republic.

The publishing company also reached agreement with the CIO American Newspaper Guild, which was not involved in the ITU dispute.

Local units of the ITU and the CIO union ratified the agreements at separate sessions Thursday night. The ITU approved the contract by a vote of 63 to 2, and the CIO union by unanimous vote.

This city of some 92,000 persons—third largest in Illinois—had been without newspaper service since April 25.

TAKES CORPS OFFICE

At a meeting of Cooper Post 194, Relief Corps, Tuesday afternoon in the YMCA, Mrs. Gladys Frost was installed as outer guard when a change was made in that office. Mrs. Blanche Hartpence and Mrs. Clara Harden were the installing officers. In charge of the meeting was Mrs. Helen Weston, junior vice president, with Mrs. Chloe Weaver and Mrs. Mabel Brady as assisting officers.

A rummage sale was announced for May 15.

Social Affairs

MRS. HARRY E. CARR of 300 Pearl St. is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Ruth Evelyn, to James W. Bibbee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Bibbee of 229 Pennsylvania Ave.

The couple have chosen Sunday, Aug. 17, as the date for their wedding which will take place in Emanuel Lutheran Church. The custom of open church will be observed.

Miss Carr is a graduate of Harding High School and is now employed with the Warner P. Simpson Co. in Columbus. Her fiance attended Harding High School and served with the 11th Air Force from 1943 to 1945, with 14 months of that time in the Aleutian Islands. He now is associated with the Jerry Spears Funeral Home in Columbus.

Mrs. Mary Armstrong was complimented with a handkerchief shower in honor of her birthday anniversary when the Happy Eight Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Agnes Reister on Ballentine Ave. High honors in cards went to Mrs. Margaret Beveridge, second to Mrs. Betty Graham, third and a special prize to Mrs. Mary Davis, and lone hand to Mrs. Bertha Flesher.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Charles Melvin when the Ben Hur Club met recently at the Federation Home. Mrs. D. T. Hamilton reported on a Federation meeting. A contribuiton was voted for the cancer fund, and plans were made for a picnic May 12 as the club's last meeting for the season. A book review on the life of Mary Garden was given by Mrs. E. W. Koeppen. Mrs. Kendrick Turner conducted a contest.

A contribution was voted for the cancer fund when the Jolly Hour Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Lydia Collins on Mt. Vernon Ave. A gift was presented to the hostess, and awards in contests went to Mrs. Mary Jenner and Mrs. Samuel Baker, a guest.

Child Research Club Gives Dinner Honoring Mothers

A DINNER in honor of their mothers was given by members of the Child Research Club Wednesday evening at the Progressive Grange hall. Mrs. Dan Hentze, president of the club, extended a welcome to the guests, and Mrs. Leelah Cook gave the response for the mothers.

Bouquets of lilacs and tulips decorated the tables, and favors were house slippers in quilted bags.

Installation of officers for the new year was held with Mrs. Walter Snyder, past president, in charge. Taking office were Mrs. Ivan Jordan, president; Mrs. Dan Hentze, vice president; Mrs. James Miley, secretary; Mrs. Frank Webb, treasurer; and Mrs. Jack Griffiths, corresponding secretary. Each was presented a rose by Mrs. Harold Van Houten.

Named to committees for the year by Mrs. Jordan were Mrs. Don Lindsey, chairman, Mrs. Gerold Armbruster and Mrs. Steve Kuhner, program; Mrs. Olin Hoisington, chairman, Mrs. Burdette Jones and Mrs. Carroll Metz, social for '52; Mrs. Walter Snyder, chairman, Mrs. Carroll Schmidt and Mrs. Greer Chapman, social for '53; Mrs. Dwight Foreman, chairman, Mrs. Clarence Meister and Mrs. Virgil Barkley, calling; Mrs. Van Houten, chairman, Mrs. Hentze and Mrs. Frank Webb, ways and means; Mrs. Charles Simonis, gifts and cards; and Mrs. Karl Barkley, scrap book.

Entertainment during the evening included a piano duet by Mrs. Metz and Mrs. Chapman; a comedy dance to the song, "Shrimp Boats," by Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Hoisington and Mrs. Van Houten; pantomiming of the song, "Wheel of Fortune," by Mrs. Jones; and two readings, "The First Recitation" and "The New Shoes," by Mrs. Hentze. Awards were won by Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Miley and Mrs. Edwin Griffiths, and Mrs. J. W. Snyder was consoled.

Mrs. Hentze, retiring president, was presented a gift from the group. Group singing by the group closed the affair.

Guests included Mrs. Alma Brodt, Mrs. Edwin Griffiths, Mrs. Nancy Thacker, Mrs. J. W. Snyder, Mrs. Barbara Hentze, Mrs. Mabel Callahan, Mrs. Nellie Wintringham, Mrs. Leelah Cook, Mrs. Anna Wilson, Mrs. Ada Strohl, Mrs. J. W. McClure, Mrs. L. E. Meister, Miss Ruth Barkley, Mrs. W. E. Mougey, Mrs. J. W. Simonis, and a former member, Mrs. Arthur Noble of Flint, Mich.

Miss Alma Roush Becomes Bride Of Robert R. Short

IN EMANUEL Lutheran Church at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Miss Alma Marie Roush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Miller of 677 Florence St., became the bride of Robert Rollin Short, son of Mrs. Louise Short of 279 S. State St. The ceremony was read by the pastor, the Rev. M. E. Hollensen.

Music was by Mrs. Forest Dotson, organist, and Robert Ralston, vocalist. Decorating the altar were white snapdragons and palms.

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father. She wore a ballerina length dress of nylon lace over satin completed with a lace jacket which featured a peter pan collar. Her veil of tulle was fastened to a lace cap which was trimmed with lilies of the valley. She carried on her bridal book a white orchid, with streamers in which rosebuds were knotted.

Miss Carol Harriman was maid of honor and wore a ballerina length dress of lavender and white, and her flowers were pink and white carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy Drake whose dress was of mint green and white, and her flowers were yellow and white carnations.

Walter Winehart of Fremont was best man, and ushers were Dale Mowry of near LaRue and Alfred King of Fremont.

For the reception at Ringer's Inn, the bridal table was decorated with snapdragons, and the wedding cake was ornamented with miniature bride and groom figures. Serving were sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Thomas Porter, Mrs. James Steele, Mrs. Hugo Malo, and Mrs. John Warner.

On leaving for a short wedding trip to Cleveland the bride wore an aqua suit with brown and wheat accessories.

A graduate of New Bloomington High School, the bride is employed at Marion Industries Division of Motor Products Corp. where her husband is an employe also. He is a graduate of Harding High School and attended Ohio University at Athens three years. They are making their home at 283 S. Prospect St.

At the rehearsal party held in the home of the bridegroom's mother, the bride's attendants were presented matching necklaces and earring sets and the men attendants were given cufflinks.

Guests at the wedding from out of town were from Groveport and Westerville, and Azalia and Petersburg, Mich.

Ten per cent of New York State's total area is made up of mountains.

Banquet Held at Church

Program, Exhibits Mark Annual Fine Arts Day

THE ANNUAL community fine fine arts day, a highlight of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs activities for more than 20 years, was held Wednesday afternoon and evening in the First Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Exhibits of arts and crafts were on display and the afternoon program centered on literature, drama, music and crafts. A banquet at 6 o'clock was followed by music by The Serenaders, and a talk by Mrs. Marian Foster Smith of Saxonburg, Pa.

To open the afternoon program Miss Madge Cooper read her short story, "The Town," which won top honors at the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs Convention at Dayton recently, and Mrs. Karl W. Schell and Mrs. John F. Lacey held a panel discussion on Music in the Home.

Portraying art Mrs. Wilma Wintringham, artist, brought to life two pictures in chalk, interpreting them with her own philosophy and thoughts on life and poetry. Life, she brought out in her first picture, is trees, still water, reflections, shadows and sunset. Her second picture, "Garden of Memories," reflected thoughts in keeping with Mother's Day. Representing students at work were Mrs. Lester L. Dickey and Mrs. Forest Flockencier.

Play Presented

An original two-act play, "The Birth of the Penny Art Fund," brought drama before the clubwomen. Taking part in the play written by Miss Mabel Wheatley, were Mrs. Fillmore Young, Mrs. Rex Robinson, Mrs. Clare W. Smith, Mrs. T. E. Sonnanstine, Mrs. Edwin Probst, Mrs. Archie Myers and Mrs. E. W. Warwick.

Miss Isabelle Stump demonstrated the weaving of place mats, and sketched the making of a number of other articles. In her display were a number of lovely purses she has woven. Weaving Miss Stump explained, is a very old craft and was developed after wool from sheep was found on branches of shrubs and bushes. Mrs. J. Edwin Kinter demonstrated the making of hooked rugs and also she had some colorful pieces of work for display. Mrs. Howard Duhamel discussed the early art of painting on tin. This folk art, she said, began in the early Colonial time and company in those early days for New England housewives was the occasion for bringing out the hand-painted tin dishes. She displayed a number of trays

New Hope for Aging Skin

Unique "Contour Facial" Seen As Most Completely Effective Single Preparation Yet Released To Help Take Years Off Your Looks

AN AMAZING NEW LOTION, by Dorothy Gray, has just been made available to women who refuse to let their skin admit their age. Aptly named Remoldine, it gives you—in one creamy, fragrant, vanishing lotion—all the firming, lifting, smoothing and refreshing action formerly found only in several different preparations—plus Hormones and two exclusive new features.

Never before—all these benefits in one product!

★ Counteracts puffiness on jawline and under eyes.

★ Blend of gentle astringents and rich emollient oils works to smooth crepy neck lines, also lines on forehead and from nose to mouth.

★ Exclusive formula makes your skin look and feel glowing, helps protect against externally-caused blemishes and irritations by suppressing trouble-making skin bacteria.

★ Works 24 hours because it's vanishing—you can leave it on all day, under make-up, as well as all night—without greasiness.

★ Contains the exclusive ingredient "Elfanol" derived from lanolin; yet even milder in action—kinder to your complexion—than lanolin.

★ Natural Estrogenic Hormone content further helps reduce conspicuous lines, wrinkles—gives your skin a youthfully moist look.

Using new REMOLDINE takes about three minutes, twice a day. Results are immediate and lasting. Your investment—a reasonable $5.00, plus tax, for a generous 4-oz. bottle of Remoldine, by DOROTHY GRAY.

3 Concerts Given Here By Navy Band

Only 412 Attend Night Program At Palace Theater

An audience of only 412 persons heard a concert of varied and expertly-presented selections played by the United States Navy Band Thursday night in the Palace Theater. Two afternoon performances were attended by a total of 1,600 high school students.

The concert at 1:30 p.m. was attended by county and area high school pupils, while students from the Marion high schools attended the 3 o'clock concert. One number at the afternoon performance was directed by Homer Huffman, supervisor of instrumental music in the city schools and director of the Harding High School band.

Six Harding band members sat with the band during the concert and took part in playing one selection. Chosen by vote of their fellow band members, the students were Eddie Porter, Ermin Seckel, Don Couch, Tom Tatham, Roger Fick, and Clyde Masters.

Due to the small attendance at the evening performance, the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce lost about $50 in sponsoring the band's appearance here, Ben Botts, general chairman, reported.

The 55-piece band was directed by Lt. Comdr. Charles Brendler, U.S.N. It was scheduled to appear today in Mt. Vernon.

Charged With Hit-Skip Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 31-year-old Euclid housewife was free on bond today after police charged her with manslaughter in the hit-skip traffic death of another Euclid woman.

Mrs. Constance Radi was arrested Thursday. Police made a house-to-house check in the vicinity of the accident and found her car in her driveway with a damaged front fender.

Police quoted Mrs. Radi as saying she had taken a couple of drinks and couldn't remember what happened as she drove home from a friend's house.

The victim, Miss Carmellta Saia, 30, was struck and killed as she stepped off a curb Wednesday night.

Navy Club Auxiliary Elects Delegates

Delegates and alternates for the national reunion were elected when the Navy Club Auxiliary met Monday night in the clubrooms. The reunion will be held in St. Louis, Mo., June 27 and 28.

Mrs. Isabelle Coleman and Mrs. Valeria Haughn were elected delegates, and Mrs. Evelyn Fox and Mrs. Betty McClaskey were chosen alternates.

Announcement was made of a rummage sale scheduled for May 21. The auxiliary, it was reported, will march with the Navy Club in the Armed Forces Parade, May 15.

Mrs. Sara Pickett, Americanism chairman, read an article on "What Is Americanism?"

Mrs. Geraldine Miller and Mrs. Coleman served refreshments after the meeting. A special prize was won by Mrs. Margaret Abbott. The next meeting will be held May 19.

STUDENT ELECTED

Richard Owen Riddle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Riddle of 768 Merkle Ave., was recently elected vice president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at Miami University, Oxford. A junior in the School of Education, he is also president of the Vigilante Club, men's service honorary.

Churches Plan Union Service

Plans for union Sunday evening vesper services in Marion during the summer were made recently at a meeting of the vespers committee of the Marion County Ministerial Association. The services will begin July 6 and continue through Aug. 31. Offerings will go to the weekday religious education program for the public schools.

Churches participating will be Trinity Baptist, Forest Lawn Presbyterian, Prospect Street Methodist, Salem Evangelical and Reformed, First Evangelical and Reformed, Wesley Methodist, First EUB, Calvary EUB, and Central Christian. The services will be held on the grounds of Central Christian Church each Sunday at 7 p.m.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

BOSTON

THE LATEST NOTE to me from General Eisenhower's Supreme Headquarters—in reply to a renewed request for Ike's position on labor now that the nation is in an industrial upheaval—said.

"Again it is my unhappy duty to disappoint you" So wrote the Allied Commander's aide, Gen. C. T. Lanham, who reasonably enough pointed out that there were 750 newspapermen sitting around Paris and therefore there could not be any exclusive statement from Eisenhower.

But other sources suggested that in Boston, where the men who first boomed Gen. Eisenhower make their headquarters, I would find the general's most recent labor views on record.

However, before we got into any discussion of what Ike likes, his ardent compaigners here refused to concede the national "labor vote" to any other potential candidate on any ticket — including President Truman, now in almost official alliance with most of the country's labor chiefs

THERE'S RESENTMENT, too, over what they charge are stunts by the CIO and Democratic strategists to provoke labor attacks on Eisenhower. They referred to the cable dispatched to the general by the swashbuckling Michael Quill, CIO vice president, when his Transport Workers Union struck Columbia University. Quill cabled Eisenhower, who is the university president on leave, asking him to yield to the union This left the public impression that the NATO commander was responsible for Columbia's refusal to sign.

The Eisenhower forces reported they had also learned that the Democrats were pressuring other CIO leaders to attack the general as they were Sen. Taft.

As for Ike's stand on labor, it was revealed that in his recent first annual report on NATO, he said

"Labor must share in responsibility as equally as it must share in productivity. We can thrive mightily in an era of good feeling It can be brought into being by vibrant, selfless leadership at all levels.'"

UNDER THE FREE WAY of life, "Labor is a full-fledged partner," the General added.

"There are elements striving to hold back the hands of the clock, and apparently placing profits above patriotism," he asserts elsewhere in his report

"At the same time there are workers in our member countries still suffering the delusion that their interests are being served by association with Communist-led labor groups

". . . It is nightmarish that any free worker of the West could respond voluntarily to the same Kremlin voices that have dictated the elimination of free labor unions in Russia and satellite countries"

Asked what quote they had which might fit the current steel crisis, they pointed to the conclusion of a speech Eisenhower delivered in St Louis on Sept 5, 1949 in which he stated

"Above all, we need more economic understanding and working arrangements that will bind labor and management, in every productive enterprise, into a far tighter voluntary cooperative unit than we now have

"The purpose of this unity will be—without subordination of one group to the other—the increased productivity that alone can better the position of labor, of management, of all America

"No arbitrary or imposed device will work. Bureaucratic plans, enforced on both parties by government, pave the road to despotism Laws that needlessly impose stifling controls and inflexible rules beyond the codes necessary to fair play may be necessary in a dictatorship—but in a democracy they are futile at the best and the cause of rebellion at the worst"

EISENHOWER MEN expect labor to split if he's nominated. Only CIO will be actively against him, they say The AFL will sit it out. They add that the attacks come with ill grace from CIO, since it was the general who called some of its leaders to Germany immediately after the occupation — and sought their advice on labor strategy there

As for the general's own stand on specific labor issues, that will be worked out by his representatives on the GOP platform committee in Chicago. It is this committee which will receive from Clarence Buddington Kelland the demands which will be made on the Republican party by the CIO through James Carey, national secretary, and by the AFL through its president, William Green.

These labor leaders will be polled shortly after Mr. Kelland opens his headquarters in the Jefferson Hotel in Washington and dispatches requests for all views on what should go into the GOP platform. Then all sides will speak, including the general's.

SNOWDROPS

Snowdrops are the earliest flowers to bloom In January or February and again in March they live up to their name by blooming when the snow melts enough for them to be seen Snowdrops naturalize easily when planted under three inches of soil They require no attention and can remain undisturbed for many years. They can be grown under trees or shrubs but to get a lovely effect they must be planted thickly. They can be grown in sun or shade. Snowflakes also belong to the snowdrop family. They are very hardy and of somewhat stronger growth than snowdrops There are several varieties of snowflakes Vernum is the earliest, blooming in late March It is called the spring snowflake and grows from 6 to 8 inches tall Next in blooming order is the Aestivus, which flowers in late April. It is called the summer snowflake It grows from 14 to 18 inches tall and can be used for cutting purposes Blooming still late in the spring is the variety known as Gravetye Giant. It does best when grown in a shady location and should be left alone as much as possible since the flowers become larger when the bulbs are not disturbed As the snowflake is a larger bulb than that of the snowdrop it should be planted an inch deeper, or at least four inches under the soil surface.

Highly Mobile

It can travel cross-country

It can fit into a landing ship designed for amphibious operations

And it can fire with accuracy "comparable to conventional artillery, and tests indicate it is much more accurate at long ranges"

Pace also said that in addition to "tactical" atomic bombs being developed for use by aircraft, this country also is developing atomic artillery which can outrange the gun-type weapon

This development, he explained involves "guided missiles and rockets to receive atomic warheads" and described their designs and how they were made Demonstrating various types of stenciling were Mrs Frank Powers, Mrs Paul Williams, Mrs LeRoy Clauer Miss Jeannine Dill, explained ceramics and assisting were Mrs L E Sherer, Mrs David Evans and Mrs. Andrew Knapp

Ceramic Exhibit

Space was given to exhibits of ceramics, painting and handcraft with shells Mrs Anne Gatewood Van Kleek exhibited ceramics; Lura Roller, Prospect High School student, mural, Mrs. Earl E Thomas, shells, flowers and other ornaments; Mrs A F Potter, work in water colors, Mrs L D Hamilton, Mrs L E Sherer and Alexanders Ievins, work in oil

Tulips in varied shades of pink, purple and white lilacs, and candles decorated the tables for the dinner served in the church basement Tall white tapers were in the flower arrangements completed the table decorations and a single taper in a flower vase was in each of the windows

Mrs Walter E Hane, president of the Federation, extended greetings and the invocation was by Mrs. C. H Bachelder During the dinner a birthday cake was presented Mrs Smith who was observing her anniversary.

Serenaders Sing

Mrs Schell, music chairman of the federation, presented the Serenaders who sang "Timber Callers Chant," "Cool Water," "Stout Hearted Men," "The Crusaders" and "Prayer Perfect" Soloists were Jack Leoffert and Robert Somerlot. The ensemble is directed by L. G Jones and accompaniments were played by Junior Denzer

Mrs Hamilton introduced Mrs Smith whose talk on "Ten Rooms in Your House of Life" sparkled with humor, philosophy, romance and pathos which she gleans from people she metts on planes, trains, busses, and from her own love of nature "Art" she described as a room of beauty, and declared that by reading "you'll never be lonely and you'll never be poor" The whole world is contributing to what we call "American Music" and she added, "America is a beautiful land, let's' keep it singing" Another room, the "out-of-doors" proves that nature heals every wound that man puts on her breast, she stated. Never monotonous, always beautiful, Nature, she declared, is the workbook of the Bible.

Champion of youth of today, Mrs Smith gave "children" as another room "Everyone," she believes, should give at least one hour a week to youth, maintaining that "you need them and they need you" Sentiment is needed, and this she believes is found in births, deaths, love, ambition and dreams In her opinion the room of sports, should be found in every woman's life and every woman should know our national game, baseball,

If ever there was a country that is well fed it is ours she stated in describing her room of health, and added "we love to eat." The room of religion is magical and beautiful and teaches understanding and tolerance, while work is good for the mind, it is your blessing, not your doom, she concluded.

Mrs Hane announced the benefit white elephant sale to be held by the federation Saturday, May 17, and the annual meeting of the retiring and incoming Federation Board on May 21 at Hotel Harding

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs Ada Altmaier and Miss Wheatley, program, and Mrs. J. H. Ralston, chairman, Mrs. Bachelder, Mrs Albert Merkle, Mrs C A. Eicher, Mrs A F. Potter, Mrs Nellie Irey and Mrs Stuart Mills, social.

Weddings

In a ceremony last month at Madison, Wis, Miss Thelma I Schmidt, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Warren of Richwood, became the bride of Lawrence M Huff, son of Joseph W. Huff of Richmond, Ill The Rev Alvin Kutchera read the marriage vows the morning of April 19 in St. Paul's University Chapel there At Madison, the bride is employed with the International Harvester Co, and her husband is a senior in the school of commerce at the University of Wisconsin Having served with the armed forces in Korea, he spent a year as a student at the Northern Illinois State Teachers College at DeKalb, Ill, before going to Madison The bride was graduated from Prospect High School. They are making their home at 1033 Spaight St. in Madison.

For her wedding, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white lace over taffeta with long, pointed sleeves and scooped oval neckline Her fingertip veil was trimmed with orange blossoms, and her lace cap matched her gown, and she carried a white orchid.

Mrs Kensel Clutter of Marion was her sister's matron of honor She wore a ballerina length gown of aqua taffeta and a headdress of flowers and aqua veiling Her flowers were in a white rosebud corsage. Vernon Miller of Richmond was best man The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Donald Schmidt of Prospect.

Breakfast was served at noon to 25 guests in Newman Hall in the chapel, and a reception for 100 guests was held in the evening at Richmond.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Barbara Jean Thrush, daughter of Mr and Mrs. LeRoy Thrush of 456 W. Columbia St., and Frank Cameron Basford II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cameron Basford of 826 Merkle Ave.

The wedding took place May 2 in the parsonage of Wesley Methodist Church and the double ring ceremony was read at 7 o'clock in the evening by the pastor, the Rev. William Reeves Only the parents of the couple attended

For her wedding, the bride chose a natural color suit with which she combined navy blue accessories Her corsage was a purple-throated orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 40 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Centering the table was a three-tiered wedding cake, and serving were Mrs. Inez Gulluzza and Mrs Chris Lagos.

Later the couple left on a wedding trip through the east. They now are living at 380½ Silver St.

Mrs Basford is employed as a cashier with the S. S Kresge Co and Mr. Basford is employed at the Ulmer Furniture and Appliance store Both are graduates of Harding High School with the class of 1951.

State Street Ninth Graders Present Plays

Capacity Crowd Sees Thursday Program; Final Show Tonight

A capacity crowd was on hand Thursday night for the presentation of the ninth grade plays of State Street Junior High School in the school auditorium.

The second and last performance of the three one-act plays will be given at 8 tonight in the auditorium.

Cast in the first play, "Hearts and Flowers," are Bessie Seel, Joyce Snyder, Margie Parsel, Sharon Mason, Walter Dasher, Dean Hartley, Delbert Huntsman and Byron Kierns.

A record pantomime by Roger Jamison and a duet by Marilyn Creasap and Ruby Hanson follow the first play.

The cast of "Rabbit Foot," the second play, includes Drexel Murphy, Marilyn Creasap, Gay Sansone, Melvin Truax, Francis Harris, Judy Butler, Jim Van Meter, Beverly Mishler and Olive Stevens.

"Take A Letter," the third play, is enacted by Roger Jamison, Mary McKinley, Myrtle Kinnamon, Ruby Hanson, Nancy Sidenstricker, Larry Hudnall, Barbara Slob, Vera Obenour and Jane Tumbleson.

Grace Jevas, accompanied by Jane George, presents a vocal solo after the plays.

The Band and Orchestra are under the direction of Miss Marilyn Hogan. Play directors are Miss Barbara Fralich, Miss Patricia Owens and Miss Zelmah Howard. Janet Roberts is prompter, and Barbara Clark designed the program cover.

Ushers are Carol Jo Perry, Shirley Lindley, Marilyn Austin, Shirley Rizor, Barbara Clark, Sally Pask, Wilma Taylor and Mary Evans. Properties and make-up were handled by Joyce White, Mandy White, Wilma George, LaCreda Lundy and Jerry Dennis.

Testifies On Horsemeat At Packer's Trial

FINDLAY, O. (AP)—A Cleveland Health Department chemist Thursday testified he found horsemeat in 16 of 18 samples of meat distributed by Kay Brand meat packing company of Findlay.

Earl L. Miller, bacteriologist for the Cleveland Health Department, testified at the trial of Joseph Kirchner, president of the Buckeye Packing Co., formerly known as the Kay Brand Packing Co.

Kirchner is one of nine Kay Brand officials and employes indicted by a Hancock County grand jury on charges of selling horsemeat in the guise of beef.

Kirchner faces 60 counts ranging from adulteration of food products to bribery of a food inspector.

Miller said 16 of 18 samples of meat taken from Kay Brand wholesale outlets in Cleveland showed "positive identification of horsemeat." He also said four samples were negative and 14 were questionable when tested for beef.

Earlier, George C Petry, chief food inspector for the Cleveland Health Department, testified he visited the Kay Brand plant in early 1951 and found sodium sulphite barrels. Petry said sodium sulphite was used to make meat appear fresher and using it is against the law.

OFF TO BAD START

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The first business meeting of Iran's new parliament broke up temporarily in wild disorder Thursday night. Deputies and onlookers screamed at each other, and one deputy smashed desks. Trouble started when the lower house the Majlis, was asked to approve 76 newly elected members.

Sugar is consumed in the United States at the rate of about 95 pounds per year for every man, woman and child.

WINS AWARD. John M. Hightower of the Associated Press Washington staff (above) has been awarded the Pulitzer international reporting prize "for sustained quality of his coverage of news of international affairs during the year," it was announced. It was the third successive major journalistic award for Hightower this spring. He won the Sigma Delta Chi prize for Washington correspondece ad the Raymod Clapper award for general reporting.

the post, held on, and by fighting and kicking managed to free himself. The post saved him, but General Dodd had nothing to cling to."

The Army said Dodd has been treated well by the Reds. He communicated with guard posts outside the barbed wire stockade by Army field telephone and couriered messages He received American food while the North Korean POWs ate their usual bowls of rice — both passed through from outside.

Dodd relayed a Communist demand for 1,000 sheets of writing paper and a "hospital representative" The paper was stacked outside the gate. The Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson, newly named prison camp commander succeeding Dodd, allowed neither paper nor medic to pass through the gates.

Instead, Colson demanded the Reds release Dodd forthwith The North Koreans ignored the demand

Ridgway called the seizure of Dodd a "flagrant and fundamental defiance of United Nations authority," He said:

"I have authorized and directed General Van Fleet to take whatever action is necessary and to use whatever force is necessary to recover General Dodd."

Ridgway issued the orders on his final visit to Korea before leaving the Far East to take command of NATO forces in Europe. He flew back to Tokyo today with Gen. Mark Clark, his successor in the Far East.

Koje has been the scene of two bloody riots by Communist prisoners. One American soldier and 90 Red POWs were killed. But this is the first reported incident in compound No. 76 where Dodd was captured and held.

Dodd himself negotiated with his captors for his release.

He was reported to have "felt strongly that a meeting this (Friday) morning may be the final meeting." But as the day wore on there was no sign that it was successful.

The Army reported Dodd said he was "all right" and was "being treated fine."

"The only information available was that handed out by the Army. News correspondents were not permitted to go to Koje. Ridgway said the situation was too tense.

Lt. Col R. P. Rosengren, Eighth Army information officer, told newsmen bluntly they would be interned if they reached the island before the Army gives permission for them to go.

A terse posted notice said no military transportation would be provided by the Eighth Army for trips southward from Seoul Friday or to Koje.

At 5:30 p m. Friday (3:30 a m. EST) the Army said "the status of General Dodd remains the same."

Military officials at Pusan, Korea, telephoned Mrs. Dodd at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., to inform her that the general was all right. It was assumed this information was relayed to the general inside the compound.

General's Wife Calm, Awaits Developments

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The striking, grey-haired wife of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd waited today like any other soldier's wife for word that her husband was safe.

Mrs. Margaret Dodd received the news with seeming calm Thursday that the general had been captured and was being held hostage by Communist prisoners of war.

But her face betrayed her emotions when she said:

"We hope and pray for his safe return."

Mrs. Dodd has been living in a new housing area with her daughter, Peggy, since Gen. Dodd, former chief of staff of the Fourth Army, left Feb. 1 to go overseas. Another daughter, Betty, a professional golfer, is away much of the time for tournaments.

Red prisoners of war seized the head of the Koje Island prisoner of war camp Wednesday. The Army said Lt. Col. Wilbur Robert Raven of Newton, Tex., also was captured but escaped. The announcement didn't say how.

In Tallahasse, Fla., Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Dodd, the general's parents, went into seclusion when they heard of their son's fate. Both are 78 years old and have been in poor health.

Betty, in Seattle for the Weathervane golf tournament, heard the news of her father's capture over a car radio. She said she planned to go ahead with the tournament as scheduled.

"I might as well," she said. "There isn't anything I can do for my father but wait for news and hope for the best."

Deadlock On Military Pay Boost Broken

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders today planned early approval of military pay increases ranging from three dollars a month for privates and seaman up to $65 for two-star generals and admirals.

The long Senate-House deadlock over cost of living increases for 3½ million men and women in the armed forces and other uniformed services was broken late Thursday.

A Senate-House conference committee agreed on a compromise measure providing 484 million of additional pay for those in uniform or who have retired.

It figures out to a 4 per cent increase in base pay and a 14 per cent increase in food and rental allowances.

The compromise now must be approved by both the House and Senate before it goes to President Truman.

One possible hitch still remains.

The conference committee dropped a Senate proposal for $45 a month extra combat pay for all Korean veterans and Rep. Brooks (D-La) said he regretted that action.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), head of the conferees, said House spokesmen would not accept the Korean pay provision because they had held no hearings on it.

Whether the Senate will accept the compromise without the combat pay provision remains to be seen.

The compromise measure follows generally the pattern of a military pay increase voted by the House in January. It approved a flat 10 per cent boost in base pay and food and rental allowances, estimated to cost 580 millions additional annually.

The Senate voted an increase of only 3 per cent in base pay with flat dollar boosts in food and rental allowances, with most of the latter going to enlisted men and lower-ranking officers with dependents.

Because most privates and other low-ranking enlisted personnel have food and lodging furnished by the government and have no dependents, they would get only three dollars above their present $75 monthly.

North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). These include:

1. Ratification by the parliaments of the six nations. Much trouble is expected in West Germany, which wants to get more concessions for its troops, and in France, where many oppose putting any Germans in uniform.

2. Signing and ratification of the peace contract between West Germany and the United States, Britain and France. Recent German demands for more concessions have indicated this may be a long way off. Until the peace contract is ratified, the army treaty under its own terms can not take effect.

Regarding the time that ratification may take, the Schuman plan to pool the same nations' steel and coal was signed almost 13 months ago. The Netherlands and Italy have not completed ratification, and Belgium and Luxembourg haven't even started the parliamentary process.

LEAVES $4,500,096

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland industrialist John S. Crider left an estate of $4,500,096, a probate court inventory showed today. Crider, who died Jan. 18, was treasurer and director of the Dow Chemical Co., a trustee of the Society for Savings Bank, and a former general manager of the National Carbon Co.

Gross

trict Attorney McDonald. Gross said:

"Mr. McDonald put into the record that any time I showed remorse and I wanted to be rehabilitated, I would be given consideration or there would be a recommendation made for me."

Explaining his reason for testifying at the present trial, Gross said: "The corporation counsel convinced me that I owed it to my family and myself to clear my name. I had been called a liar and a perjurer."

Gross has been sentenced to 12 years for bookmaking and conspiracy, and to a five-year term for contempt of court when he wrecked the graft trial of the 18 policemen.

Names More Than 100

Gross, who reputedly paid one million dollars a year in graft to police for protection, named more than 100 policemen and former city officials in his testimony Wednesday and Thursday.

One of the top police brass he accused—former Chief Inspector August W. Flath—said in a statement late Thursday that Gross' charges against him were "vicious, base lies"

"I never met with this man (Gross), nor received anything from him in my whole life," Flath declared.

Board Holds Ditch Hearing

Oak Knolls Project Decision Deferred

A hearing on the Oak Knolls Ditch Petition in Marion Township was held Thursday by the Marion County Commissioners.

The petition, filed by the Marion Farm Home Sales Agency, asked that a ditch be constructed along Olive St., Eustis St., and Van Atta Ave. emptying into the Cusic ditch. The whole project would lie west of the Sawyer Rd. No estimate has been made of the cost of the ditch.

At the request of several of the affected landowners, another hearing was set for Aug. 7. Several persons attending the hearing said they thought runoff water in the area could be controlled by the installation of short sections of tile by property owners in the area without going to the expense of having the ditch constructed.

The commissioners said the next hearing will determine if the problem has been solved.

BEVAN GAINS SUPPORT

BLACKPOOL, Eng. (AP)— A second big trade union threw its 850,000 - member support today behind Left-Wing Aneurin Bevan's call for a cut in Britain's arms program. Bevan contends Britain's arms program will wreck the nation's economy.

Man Arrested Over 30 Times Is Sentenced

Homer Fred Sanders, 34, of Cottage St. was fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse by Judge W. Dexter Hazen in Municipal Court today.

Arrested more than 30 times in recent years, Sanders was arrested Tuesday night for intoxication, resisting arrest, and disorderly conduct. City police made the arrest on N. Main St. Judge Hazen said he has spent much of the last three years in the county jail.

Morrow Co. Property Owners Face 7.41 Per Cent Tax Increase

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—Morrow county property owners are facing a 7.41 percent increase, on the average, in real estate valuation which the State Board of Tax Appeals claims will bring the county valuations to the 50 per cent figure of real worth.

The last session of the Ohio Legislature passed House Bill 644 which granted the state authority to reappraise real estate up to half its actual value. Any taxing district failing to comply with the revaluation order is subject to having half of its state subsidy money withheld by the state.

The state request for a reappraisal now was made on a tax district basis rather than a county-wide plan according to County Auditor Marold Taylor. While Morrow county faces a 7.41 increase neighboring counties face increases of 15 to 40 per cent, Taylor said.

The smaller increase for Morrow county can be attributed to the job done by local appraisers in 1949, Taylor said. Neighboring counties hired commercial firms at costs of about $40,000 each to conduct their reappraisals in 1949 while the Morrow county reappraisal was made with local help and at a cost of only about $8,000.

That the county has to increase its valuations by only such a small percentage in comparison to the much higher percentages of neighboring counties is a tribute to the job which the local appraisers did, Taylor added.

The percentage figures were arrived at after state tax officials checked the real estate transfers in the county recorder's office for each township, examined the revenue stamps attached and compared the approximate sale figures with the tax duplicate figures.

The check with the tax duplicate and real estate revenue stamps was made for the years 1946, 1947 and 1948 by state taxation officials. The new valuations will be in effect for the 1952 taxes to be paid starting in January of 1953, Taylor said.

Biggest discrepancy in local valuations was at Sparta where the State Board said the valuation was 115.61 per cent below what it should be. Valuations in Westfield Lincoln, Washington, Harmony, Chester, Franklin, Perry and Troy townships were found to be just what they should be. South Bloomfield township had its valuation the farthest off being 16.96 per cent below what the state board thought it should be.

Township valuations will be raised by the following percentages to be in line with the new proposal; Canaan .52; Cardington, 4.08; Peru, 5.51; Gilead 2.25; N. Bloomfield, 2.92; Congress, 2.19; Bennington, 8.23; and South Bloomfield, 16.95.

Corporation valuations will be raised by the following percentages to be in line with the new proposal: Cardington, 4.10; Edison, 44.93; Marengo, 40.25; Sparta, 115.61; Chesterville, 58.28; and Mt. Gilead, 11.36. With an increase in the tax duplicate it is certain that the tax rate outside the 10 mill limitation will be reduced.

Under state law all voted levies must be reduced in proportion to the increase in valuation. Thus Mt. Gilead village residents, who now have a tax rate of 29.2 mills per thousand dollars of valuation, will have their property values increased by approximately 11 per cent but at the same time the tax rate would drop to approximately 22 mills per thousand, Taylor said.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

"Thank you very much," I told Adams. "And I'll tell Mr. Underwood."

I walked slowly toward the door of Dicky's studio, and waited to knock until the elevator had gone below the level of the floor. I found myself trembling a bit as I let the knocker fall, and realized that I never had been more shaken at the prospect of an interview with anyone as I was by this coming talk with Harry Underwood.

I knew the reason, of course I had counted heavily upon his aid in ridding Lillian of her obsession that, at any cost, she must prevent the marriage of her daughter, Marion Morton, to Ronald Brixton, apparently doomed to spend the rest of his life in a wheel chair. And now, that prop was knocked from under me by the thing that Dicky had told me—saying that Harry appeared also to be objecting to the marriage

I knew that I must proceed warily But I also knew that I was the only hope Marion had Lillian alone was hard enough to outwit. But Lillian with Harry back of her—I didn't want to think of that.

When the door began to swing open, I tried to stiffen my spine, but the vertebrae felt more like gelatin as I saw Harry Underwood standing in the doorway, palpably trying to force a smile to his lips His face was worn, and his eyes were tired. But there was a gleam in them which I knew well—a gleam that said he had questions to ask, questions for which he expected answers. But I made up my mind to postpone those answers as long as I possibly could.

"Hi, Harry!" I said. "This is mighty nice seeing you and knowing you are safe"

"Hi, Lady Fair!" he said "Come in! Hope you don't mind my smoking."

A ready "Of course not," was on my lips, and then a terrifying thought struck me. Lillian's perceptions are very keen, and she knows the difference between the tobaccos used by her husband and by other men

"I am afraid I do, Harry," I said "That is, I don't want you to smoke your own pipe or cigars Dicky has plenty of his brand on his drawing table. Won't you humor me, and take his?"

His eyes narrowed as he took my hand, pulled me forward and seated me in a chair. He did not take one himself but stood erect a formidable figure with his big frame, still lithe and erect, his white hair, still abundant, his frowning face and questioning eyes.

"Look here, Lady Fair," he said. "What gives? There's something going on which I don't know and—I don't like it. I asked the Chief to see Lil, and he tells me that I can't see her until I first have talked with you. Doesn't let a peep out of him of what all the shootin's fer. Tell me first, has Lil any idea that she's going to see me pretty soon, or is she still wondering whether I'm dead or alive?"

"Just a second," I said, as I went to the window and opened it. Then I came back to my seat and faced him.

"She knows now," I said, "for I told her a few minutes after Dicky told me of this interview Neither my father nor Dicky dreams that I have told her you were safe and would be seeing her shortly, so please don't give me away"

He uttered an expletive savagely, then looked a bit abashed.

"Sorry, Lady Fair, but what does your respected dad thing he's doing, anyway doubling for a concentration camp superintendent?"

Boat Tinkerin' Time

By FRANK TRIPP

A HANKERIN' to get at the old Mary-Nan comes with May and reminds of all the Winter chores that were planned at haulout time last Fall—and never thought of since. It's the only thing that makes Winter seem too short; unless it's a six months note issued in November.

Up our way you can't do much around a boat before May and even then its' pretty clammy business. Of course most folks who own boats just daub on some paint in the Spring and shoot 'em into the water. Those are the smart ones who own boats for what they were meant. Not the nuts who own them to tear apart and tinker with.

Fanny has a bright idea that I may fall for. She says, "Why don't you buy a trailer with nothing on the inside, just the body and the running gear. Then get in there and muss it up to your heart's content, and give the Mary-Nan a rest?"

Her idea is that maybe then we could have a boat trip before August without the innards of the old gall being all upset by the annual alterations. Which often as not consist of putting things back like they were in the first place.

THERE'S A GREAT similarity between a good sized trailer and a cabin cruiser, so far as living accommodations are concerned. About the only difference is that one lives on land, the other in the water. But when it comes to upkeep, a trailer has it all over a boat like a tent.

There's only one think I know of that a man can spend more money on and get less out of than a ten-ton boat. That's a shiftless wife. I hasten to impress that this statement is based on observation—not experience. It's a risky wise crack anyway you say it.

THE MARY-NAN is 23 just about now. She's a pre-depression baby, bought with our last money pre the 1929 crash. If I hand't got her then she'd probably be a row boat. If you're old enough you'll recall what happened in October 1929

Pretty much everybody who thought he was on the way to reasonable security had the box kicked out from under him and the ways were greased for the government to take over his independence, his pants and the money with which he could buy things like boats.

Too many rooters for government interference in their personal affairs either never knew or have forgotten that like as not they'd have a Mary-Nan, or whatever it is they crave, if they could have kept just part of what they've dumped into the public till to keep fair deals and crooked deals going. A whole generation never experienced the difference; which extends all the way from private yachts down to kiddie cars.

ANYWAY WHILE ALL of this was going on, the Mary-Nan has suffered radical changes too. No doubt if she could speak, she would say:

"Put me back like I was, none of your tinkering has made me a stronger, safer boat You've just spent a lot of dough to satisfy your passing fancy. Your grandchildren, who think I'm quite a gal in all the unnecessary togs you've given me, never knew me like I was; and some day they may need badly the money you wasted on me."

Thus the Mary-Nan and her expermenting master llook back upon the last 23 years. Would that I could give my children the chance to live the life we once lived, as easily as I might let them sail the Mary-Nan like she was when I got her.

It would take a lot of time and patience to restore her; but this time I'd know where I was headed and what I'd have when I got there. Which is more than I can say for much I did to make her what she is, and more than can be said for the politicians who have tinkered with the ship of state.

The Mary-Nan could well sing to me, as I'd like to sing to Washington, the doleful words of the old sob song:

"You made me what I am today; I hope you're satisfied."

The blubber on a large whale may be as much as 14 inches thick on some portions of the body.

Galion Council Studies Two Ordinances

Special to The Star

GALION— Galion City Council, at its regular meeting Tuesday considered two measures pertaining to expanding police and fire departments, and regulation of trailer parks in Galion.

An ordinance presented for study and not for passage was aimed at expansion of supervisory officers in police and fire departments, increase in number of men, adjustment of wages and working conditions, and provision for bonding officers.

In setting up organization, the proposal is for three captains in the police department, one of which will be in charge of safety, a clerk for the police department, and all laws and rules to be drawn up by the chief under the direction of the safety director of the city.

The proposal for the fire department was for an extra captain, and that laws and rules be set up under same plan as fire department.

First reading was given the ordinance to regulate house trailer parks in the city limits. The ordinance provided that the board of health inspect these trailer parks every six months, and to levy and collect an annual fee, that the chief of the fire department determine the number and type of fire extinguishers to be available at the trailer park, and to control and regulate storage of fuel in and near the trailer camp. The ordinance also prohibits the extension of existing trailer parks, and prohibits establishments of any new trailer parks in the city limits.

Lilacs in Bloom Along Trail

Spring has come to the Lilac Trail on Vernon Heights Blvd. where the lilacs are blooming in a profusion of color and beauty.

The bushes are a picture of various hues of purples interspersed with white and never have they seemed so full of bloom. Motorists will be amply rewarded by including a swing around the boulevard in their travel, and should one have ample time and no car, a saunter along the trail would be doubly gratifying.

The trail, which is sponsored by the Marion Garden Club, is cared for by the members. New bushes have been added and plans include some rearranging and replanting after the bushes have ceased blooming.

Bowling Green Will Inaugurate 4th President

BOWLING GREEN, O.—Dr. Ralph Waldo McDonald will be inaugurated Saturday afternoon as the fourth president of Bowling Green State University.

The honorary degree of doctor of humane letters will be conferred on his predecessor, Dr. Frank J. Prout, who retired last August. The principal speaker at the inauguration is Dr. John Dale Russell, chancellor and executive secretary of the New Mexico Board of Educational Finance.

Dr. McDonald for seven years was on the staff of the National Education Association as executive secretary of the Department of Higher Education and of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards. He is a Phi Beta Kappa and a former college professor and member of the North Carolina legislature.

Opened in 1914, Bowling Green State University has 3,223 students in its colleges of business administration, education and liberal arts and its Graduate School.

VOTERS IN ACTION

Editor of The Star: The recent election has demonstrated two important facts: First, that a candidate cannot switch family political affiliations and expect to be elected.

Second, the public when given a chance are generally opposed to pensioned public employes being elected to further public payroll positions.

All should be proud of the large vote. Our citizens wore their badge of good citizenship by voting.

THE FRUITS of the work of this Commission are not limited to better conditions in Texas and the other Southwestern states. The Commission will have a profound effect in all the countries to the South. For nothing has so impaired our relations with Latin-American countries as the stories that have gone down there about bad treatment of members of their nationalities in the United States.

Moreover, there is a good deal that advocates of fair employment practices commissions on the Federal and local levels can learn from this Texas Good Neighbor Commission. Good will among men from the beginning of time has never been promoted by force, either of the sword or of the law. It is a matter of human contacts on the neighborhood and local level.

Home Freezing Demonstrated

Food can be successfully frozen at home without the use of expensive materials, 75 Marion County women learned at a freezing clinic Tuesday afternoon in the Ohio Edison Co. kitchen on S. Main St.

The clinic, sponsored by the Marion County Agricultural Extension Service and the public utility companies serving Marion County, was conducted by Miss Nancy Johnson, home economist with the Westinghouse Corporation in Mansfield.

Miss Johnson demonstrated methods for freezing green beans, strawberries, and meat patties. She announced that moisture-proof, vapor-proof packaging materials, such as aluminum foil and polyethylene, a plastic, furnish the best results. For filling packages, she suggested using a funnel formed from a tin can with the top and bottom removed and the sides of one end crushed together.

Two City Traffic Accidents Listed

Two traffic accidents were reported today by city police.

Cars driven by Charles Keck, 33, of 455 Oak St. and John A. Korte, 18, of 866 Woodrow Ave. collided at the intersection of W. Center St. and Olney Ave. at 3:47 p.m. Thursday. Both cars were damaged.

A car driven by Dennis S. Howard, 26, of near Mt. Vernon struck a parked car owned by Harry Mann of 276 Park Blvd. at 9:23 a.m. Thursday in front of Mann's home. Both cars were damaged.

Claims Official Made Large Grain Profit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Agriculture committee investigating government grain deals turned its attention again today to warehousing practices.

Committee officials said there is a possibility top government warehousing officials called as witnesses will be asked about a storage transaction in Baton Rouge, La., sharply criticized by Sen. Williams (R-Del) as a waste of taxpayers' money, and involving Jack Cowart, former Agriculture Department official convicted of accepting a bribe in another government transaction.

Williams told the Senate earlier this week he was informed the Baton Rouge engineers depot in Louisiana which originally cost the government $2,907,257 had been sold by the War Assets Administration to the Baton Rouge Warehouse Co., for $205,000, with $41,000 down payment.

Less than two months after the sale, he said, the Commodity Credit Corporation leased a part of the facilities for storage purposes and paid $192,756 in storage fees during the following two-year period.

The senator added that a proposal was pending to repurchase the property for more than one million dollars.

He told the Senate only part of the down payment, $12,050, was paid at the time of sale, the remainder not being collected until nearly a year after possession had been given.

During the intervening months more than $86,000 was collected in storage fees, he said.

Williams said Cowart, special assistant to the Production and Marketing Administration chief, participated in the transaction.

Police and Firemen Exams Set June 11

Civil service examinations for prospective policemen and firemen will be given June 11, the City Civil Service Commission announced today.

Applications to take the exams may be obtained at the commission office at 126½ S. Main St.

At present there is but one vacancy in the fire department and none in the police department, but the commission hopes to build up an eligibility list so that when future vacancies occur, a replacement will already have been qualified. Place of the examination has not yet been determined.

IN THE SERVICE

Seaman Apprentice Edward Schmeltzer, son of Mrs. Bertha Schmeltzer of 444 Olney Ave., arrived April 24 at the island of Guam, where he is waiting further assignment. He will be joined later by his wife, the former Janet Force of near Edison, who is now living in San Francisco, Calif. S/A Schmeltzer entered the Navy Nov. 21, 1951.

AID SOCIETY MEETS

For a meeting of the Lee Street Presbyterian Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society Wednesday, Mrs. Charles Blair was hostess in her home on Avondale Ave. Devotions were by Mrs. Mary Gherman and "Our Faith in Action" was presented by Mrs. Ivaloo Pryor. A potluck supper for members and their families at the church was announced for June 4.

Patrol Reports 8 Arrests, 3 Accidents

Orlyn L. Edler, 22, of 153 Fies Ave escaped injury early today when he lost control of his car and struck the guard rail of a bridge on Route 30-S in Marion County, about two miles east of the Morrow County line. He was driving east at 3.10 a.m. His car was considerably damaged.

He was charged by state highway patrolmen with being in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. He was placed in Marion City Prison, pending hearing today in Municipal Court

Two accidents Thursday were also reported by the patrol.

Cars driven by George L. Rogers, 78, of Morral and Darwin E. Jurey, 46, of 228 E Center St sideswiped on Route 23, two miles north of Marion, at 11 20 a m Both were traveling north, and Rogers was attempting to pass Jurey as the latter started to make a left turn Minor damage to the cars was reported.

Leaves Highway

A tractor and semi-trailer owned by the Buckeye Transportation Co. of Galion was considerably damaged when it went off the road into a ditch after jackniffing on a curve of Route 42, just north of Mt Gilead, at 2 45 a m. The outfit skidded when the driver, Dorrence Pounds, 29, of 635 Blake St, applied his brakes. The road was slippery from a light rainfall, the patrol reported. Pounds was not injured.

Seven arrests on charges of speeding were made by patrolmen Thursday. Drivers arrested, with arrest locations and case dispositions, were Wendell Harber, 30, Lafayette, Tenn, Route 42, $15 and costs, Harriet Irene Kuhn, 28, Inkster, Mich., Route 23, in court May 16, Virgil Knowlton, 42, Bellefontaine, Route 23, in court today; Carl Schrok, 37, Columbus, Route 23, in court today, Robert Dean, 50, Rapids City, Ill, Route 30-N, $10 and costs, Robert Graham, 26 Torrance, Pa., Route 30-N, $15 and costs, Wilbur Gray, 32, Blairsville, Pa, Route 30-N, $15 and costs

Also arrested Thursday was Willard R Alexander, 23, of Columbus, who was charged with crossing over the yellow line at a curve on Route 23. He posted bond for appearance in Municipal Court May 12

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market was highlighted today by a spurt in Williston Basin oil shares The list as a whole, however, backed and filled irregularly in apathetic trading.

Shell Oil which has large holdings in the Montana part of the basin, jumped 3½ points on the announcement that its most recent well in that area is the biggest yet uncovered in actual oil production. Northern Pacific Railway with important land interests in the same territory scored a gain of 1⅛ points.

Most pivotal issues churned around idly only slightly changed from previous closings. U.S. Steel was up ⅛; Kennecott Copper off ⅛; Anaconda up ¼; General Motors up ⅛; Westinghouse off ¼; American Telephone up ⅛; General Electric unchanged; and Montgomery Ward off ¼.

Among the rails, Nickel Plate was up ¼; New York Central off ⅛; Canadian Pacific unchanged; and Baltimore and Ohio off ⅛.

The Dow Jones industrial average was off 44 cents; the rails were up one cent; and the utilities were up one cent.

Volume for the first hour tapered off to 200,000 shares as 320 000 Thursday.

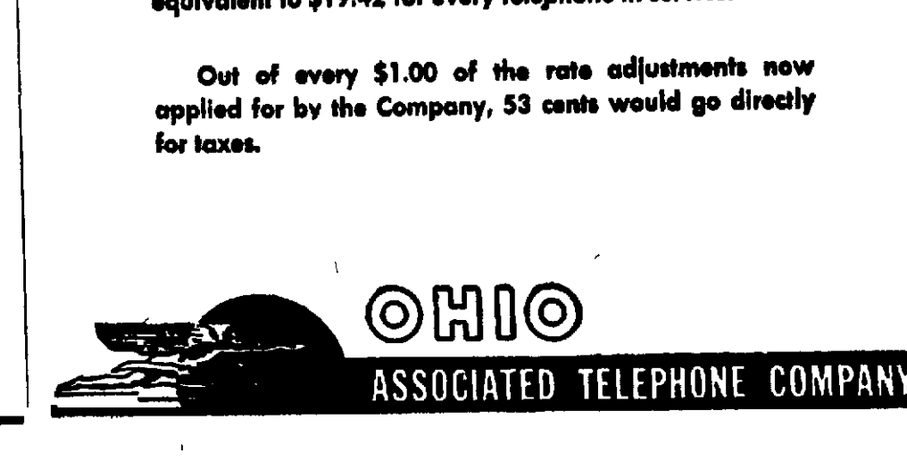
Out of Every Additional $1.00 FROM NEW RATES 53¢ For Tax



Higher taxes are a big reason for the increasing cost of telephone service.

The telephone bill carries more tax than the service or product of any major industry, with the exception of distilling and tobacco.

Last year from total collections made from its subscribers Ohio Associated Telephone Company turned over to taxing authorities more than $1,633,000. This was equivalent to $19.42 for every telephone in service.

Out of every $1.00 of the rate adjustments now applied for by the Company, 53 cents would go directly for taxes.

Crawford Boards Find No Solution To Deficiencies

(Special to The Star)

BUCYRUS — School deficiency problems facing several Crawford County rural schools apparently will have to be solved by the individual boards, observers reported, following a joint meeting of North Robinson, Whetstone and Leesville boards at which no joint program was formulated.

The meeting, held at North Robinson school, was scheduled in an effort to work out some program, which would remedy existing deficiencies and meet with the approval of the Ohio High School Board.

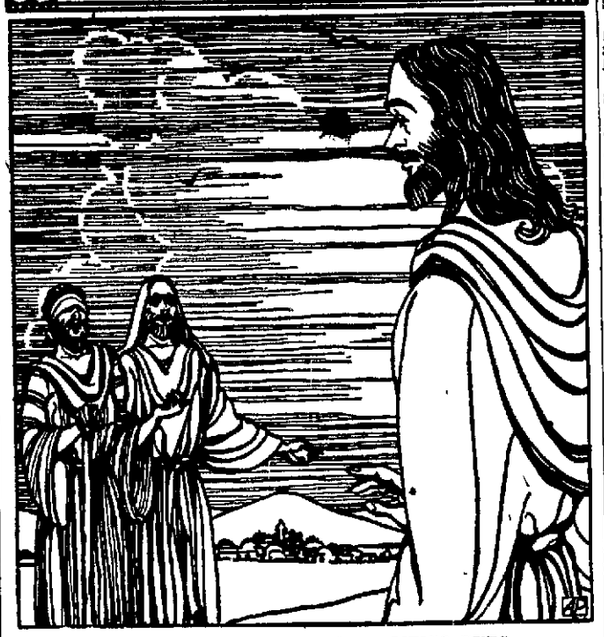
Board members said the next move appears to be up to the state board, which is expected to decide on what action to take regarding the charters of North Robinson, Whetstone and Leesville.

Charters of all three schools are under review by the state board, which has unofficially suggested a consolidation program as a means of eliminating the deficiencies. The board further has recommended that a population and consolidation survey of the situation be made by a recognized agency.

Spokesmen for the boards said that during the one and one-half hour session, the boards could not find a means of solving their mutual problems.

The Israelites are believed to have first entered the land of Canaan, now Israel, about 1,400 B.C.

THE WORKS OF CHRIST



JESUS TOUCHES THE BLIND MEN'S EYES

And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed Him, cry ng and saying Thou son of David, have mercy on us. And when He was come into the house, the blind men came to Him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto Him, Yea, Lord.

Then touched He their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you. And their eyes were opened; and Jesus straitly charged them, saying, See that no man know it. But they when they were departed spread abroad His fame in all that country.

St. Matthew 9:27-31.

Sunday Test Open To Public

Set Demonstration On Fertilizing From Air

One of the fastest growing uses of the airplane in agriculture, the application of liquid fertilizer, will be demonstrated to the public at the Marion County Airport Sunday at 6:30 p.m., wind and weather permitting.

A low-flying, specially equipped airplane will apply "Na-Churs" liquid fertilizer to a wheat field to demonstrate how an airplane can be used to do the job, and to demonstrate the feeding of crops through the leaves.

Leaf feeding, one of the newest scientic methods of fertilizing growing crops, is a process by which plant nutrients are applied to the leaves of growing crops in solution with conventional spray applicators. Reports from many users of the process and from agricultural experimenters indicate that leaf feeding is one of the most eficient methods yet devised for feeding crops. Up to 90 per cent of nutrients applied in this manner are absorbed in a matter of hours, some reports state.

To Spray 20 Acres

At the airport, operated by the Baker Aviation Corporation, 20 acres of winter wheat along the airport runway and the highway will be sprayed with two gallons of liquid fertilizer per acre. There is parking space adjacent to the field where observers can park to watch the demonstration, Stanley Baker, proprietor, said.

The demonstration is being sponsored jointly by the Ohio Aviation Board, Baker Aviation Corporation and the "Na-Churs" Plant Food Company of Marion, tested as one of the nation's largest manufacturers of liquid fertilizer. The "Na-Churs" Company will supply the materials for the demonstration.

The actual spraying will be done by Robert Ewing, partner of the Miami Valley Dusting and Spraying Service which operates four specially equipped planes from South Dayton Airport. The service is one of 42 such agricultural aviation organizations in Ohio licensed to do this type of flying.

Ewing will pilot his Piper Super Cub equipped with spray booms and a special pump only a few feet above the ground during the application. He will fly over the field spraying 50-foot swaths at each pass. The plane will be traveling approximately 75 miles per hour during the operations.

Represents Board

Representing the Ohio Aviation Board at the public demonstration will be Ralph E. Young, Agricultural Aviation Coordinator for the State of Ohio, whose work involves the promotion of the use of airplanes on farms and to serve farmers. He, along with other board officials, will be on hand at the airport to make observations.

Dr. Victor A. Tiedjens, authority on liquid fertilizer solutions and research director of the "Na-Churs" Plant Food Company, will make the scientific observations necessary in the demonstration. He will observe the condition of the wheat crop before the demonstration, and will later make scientific observations to determine the effects of the application.

The Marion County Airport is located along State Route 98 one mile north of the intersection between that route and U.S. Route 30-South, east of Marion.

The 20 acres of wheat to be fed through the leaves was planted about 10 days to two weeks late last fall, according to Baker. At the present time it is "off color," showing pale green and yellow in many spots in the field. The leaf feeding is designed to give the wheat extra nutrients with which to recover from its present condition and to help it get a good start before it advances too far toward harvest, Dr. Tiedjens indicated.

NAMED BY GROSS. Testifying at a departmental trial in New York of five policemen, gambler Harry Gross named William O'Brien (above), a former police commissioner, as one of the men who helped protect his $20,000,000-a-year bookmaking empire. Gross mentioned O'Brien while discussing graft payments in Brooklyn's 19th Police Inspection Division.

Bottle From Okinawa Reaches California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—S/Sgt. Lawrence J. Stetson was baffled when a bottle filled with photographs, which he threw away in Okinawa, turned up on this side of the Pacific Ocean.

The bottle containing the photos was found on the shore near Bodega Bay, about 50 miles north of San Francisco, last November.

Stetson, now stationed at Mather Air Force Base near here, saw the pictures when they were published in a local paper. He displayed an album containing prints of the same pictures that were in the bottle, plus many similar ones.

Stetson said he threw the container and film away on Okinawa about Oct. 1, 1951.

Licenses For Cigaret Dealers Go On Sale

Cigaret dealers licenses, both wholesale and retail, will be on sale at the Marion County auditor's office beginning Monday, Auditor Maurice Clements reported today.

The licenses become effective May 26, and run for one year. They cost $25 for a retail license and $100 for a wholesale license. Last year 356 retail licenses were sold and nine wholesale licenses were issued, Clements said.

Money from the sale of the licenses is made available to the subdivision in which the licensee sells the cigarets.

Clements said malt dealers licenses were also available at the same time. He said they sell for one dollar each and about four are issued annually.

ROBIN SOUNDS ALARM

LOGANSPORT, Ind. (UP)—The Harry Skinner family has a new wrinkle in alarm clocks. The family was awakened at six o'clock by a robin "knocking" on the front door. Each morning the bird has returned at the same hour to sound the alarm.

Cleveland In Virtual Tie for Lead After Series Sweep

Tribe Hands Yankees Third Loss; Bosox Lose

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

It said here a month ago Cleveland couldn't win the pennant until they learned how to win at Yankee Stadium Well, bud, they seem to learn fast.

Not since 1947 had the Indians swept a series in the New York Yankees' home park until they humbled the world champs Thursday, 12-5, for a third straight

The Yankee Stadium jinx, the Vic Raschi hex, the Eddie Lopat whammy all went out the window in this first New York-Cleveland series of the season. Raschi got his lumps Wednesday and Lopat his Thursday. Tribe's new cleanup man, Ray Boone, went on the warpath. Boone struck the big blow of the game, a three-run homer in the fifth. It hardly mattered that Cleveland poured over six runs in the ninth.

Feller Wins

Bobby Feller was the official winning pitcher as the Tribe finished its first eastern trip with a fine 7-3 record. But Feller needed solid help from Bob Lemon The Yanks nicked Feller for 12 hits in 5 2/3 innings Lemon gave them only one the rest of the way—a ninth-inning homer by Gene Woodling.

This crushing defeat, sinking the Yanks three games under 500 and 5½ games off the lead, came at a particularly embarrassing moment The latest averages show Archie Wilson, one of the men sent to Washington in the Irv Noren deal, leading the league with a .481 batting average

Winging home after this successful tour, the Indians were only 18 percentage points behind the leading Boston Red Sox. All even in the "games behind" they trailed in points because they have lost one more while winning one more

The five-game winning string may be just setting the stage for Southpaw Tommy Byrne of the Brownies when he goes against the Tribes' Early Wynn (4-1) tonight at 8 15 p m (Starting time for night games this season is 15 minutes earlier than in other years)

Byrne handed Cleveland its first beating this year after the Tribe had won seven in a row at the outset And Byrne was the fellow who halted Cleveland's longest victory skein last season at 13

The Indians haven't beaten the Browns this. year St Louis won two night games there the second week of the campaign, and in three spring exhibitioners copped all three

The Browns play four games at Cleveland, ending with a double header Sunday. There are three games with New York starting Tuesday night, then Washington, Philadelphia and Boston come to the stadium for two each

Boone Explodes

Shortstop Ray Boone was the batting hero for the Indians Thursday. Hitting in the clean-up position he drove home five runs His single after Al Rosen's triple in the third tied the score at 3-3 He homered after Bob Avila singled and Rosen walked to put Cleveland in front to stay in the fifth And in the six-run ninth-inning rally, he drove home a run with a fly

Harry Simpson keynoted the game when, as the first man up, he slapped an inside-the-park homer that rolled 457 feet to the bleachers Steady Eddie Lopat the crafty southpaw who holds a 33-8 lifetime record against the Tribe, lasted only five innings and yielded half of Cleveland's 14 hits

After Bob Hogue kept Cleveland scoreless for three innings, the Indians exploded with six runs off Bob Kuzava and Joe Ostrowski in the ninth The Yanks scarcely looked like world champs that frame

Birdie Tebbetts started it all by singling and beating Kuzava's throw to second on Lemon's sacrifice Simpson's' bunt filled the bases, and the runs came in on flies by Avila and Boone. Dale Mitchell's single Bobby Brown's fumble of Jim Fridley's grounder and Bob Kennedy's two-run double, a short fly to center that fell among Irv Noren, Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald

The Chicago White Sox salvaged the finale at Boston, 4-2, on Saul Rogovin's five-hit pitching Ed Stewart's two-run homer off Loser Ray Scarborough in the seventh was the crusher, ending the White Sox's six-game losing streak

Big Jim Rivera, the St. Louis Browns' slumping rookie flash, snapped out of it with a ninth-inning home run that beat Philadelphia, 9-8 Rivera, benched for weak hitting, got into the game just in time to make a sensational catch in the sixth.

Washington struggled 11 innings to a 4-4 deadlock with Detroit in a "suspended game" that will be completed before a May 31 night game. Play was halted after the 11th to let the Tigers catch a train for home and a date with Chicago this afternoon

Koslo Whips Cards

Dave Koslo continued his mastery over the St. Louis Cardinals as the New York Giants tightened the National League race with a 3-0 win. The defending champs now are only 28 percentage points behind the idle Brooklyn Dodgers

The surging Giants rushed through their first western trip with a glittering 9-1 record. They have won 1-3 of their last 15 games.

Stan Musial, who went hitless against Koslo last lear in 17 trips, had a pair of doubles It wasn't enough to save Gerry Staley from his first defeat after winning four in a row Three hits by Whitey Lockman led the Giant attack.

Willard Marshall tripled with the bases loaded and singled home a fourth run in the Boston Braves' 6-4 triumph over Chicago The loss dropped the Cubs into a third-place tie with idle Cincinnati.

The Philadelphia at Pittsburgh game was postponed because of rain and wet grounds. Brooklyn and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Oliver, Snead Lead Greenbrier Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W Va (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver shot the best tournament round of his 14-year professional golf career Friday and he'd better keep on doing it to win the 72-hole Greenbrier Open

The jolly golfer built like a barrel rolled out a near-record 61 in the first 18 holes on the Old White Course

But still stalking him is the great Sam Snead for whom this is home course Sam is second by three strokes, and the way Sam's playing, Oliver can't afford to falter

Dow Finsterwald of Athens O, carded a 68 to land one stroke behind fourth place tie-holders Doug Ford of Harrison, N Y., and Dave Douglas of Newark, Del Henry Pickard of Cleveland shot 35-35—70

Scribe Revises Forecast In American Loop

By GALE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball race is not yet a month old, and a forecaster should not become panicky any more than a manager should, but we already have a strong feeling that some alterations are necessary in what was presented here as the four-star, exclusive and certain order of finish in the American league.

Don't become nervous. If you risked a beer on the Cleveland Indians to win the flag, take it easy. You're in. They have what it takes, even with such a man as Larry Doby out with injuries It is below that point that the original list appears to be slightly out of kilter, and we would like to offer an explanation.

In the first place, they have been trading players all over the joint since the season opened If this were not sufficient to alter the picture, several clubs especially the Boston Red Sox are employing athletes who were kept carefully hidden during the spring. They're good, too. And in the third place, quite a few players are not performing up to the standard expected of them. These are things which could not have been foreseen.

TAKE, FIRST, the two swaps which have given Washington a brand-new young outfield of Jim Busby, Jackie Jensen and Archie Wilson, and a potential winning pitcher in Frank (Spec) Shea, whose long-lame arm appears to have mended. No manager can get more out of a club than Bucky Harris. Let's jump the Senators up two notches to fifth place, just on a hunch

That makes it necessary to drop the cooled-off St Louis Browns down to sixth and the Chicago White Sox to seventh, and we'll tell you why The Browns, to stay up there, had to get hitting from Jim Rivera, their fabled rookie, and nearly loss-proof pitching from Ned Garver. Manager Rogers Hornsby had been forced to bench Rivera, which must have hurt, and Garver hasn't been doing too well.

Dumping the White Sox, who finished fourth last season, all the way down to the edge of the abyss might seem drastic, but there's simply no other place to lodge Paul Richards' erratic crew while the Athletics have squatters' rights on the basement Everyone around the western training camps knew a month ago the Sox could not sustain their pace of a year ago.

For the time being, and at least until another revised forecast seems advisable, we'll leave the Yankees in the runner-up spot You can't turn your back on a champ just because he gets knocked down a couple of times. Two things are ailing the erstwhile Bombers at this stage — they aren't hitting with men on the bases, a painful complaint, and Vic Raschi, the wheelhorse of their pitching staff hasn't been able to finish any of five starts.

It is possible that the loss of Second-Baseman Gerry Coleman to the service will prove to have been a mortal wound, but no accurate diagnosis is possible pending a further clinical study of the patient.

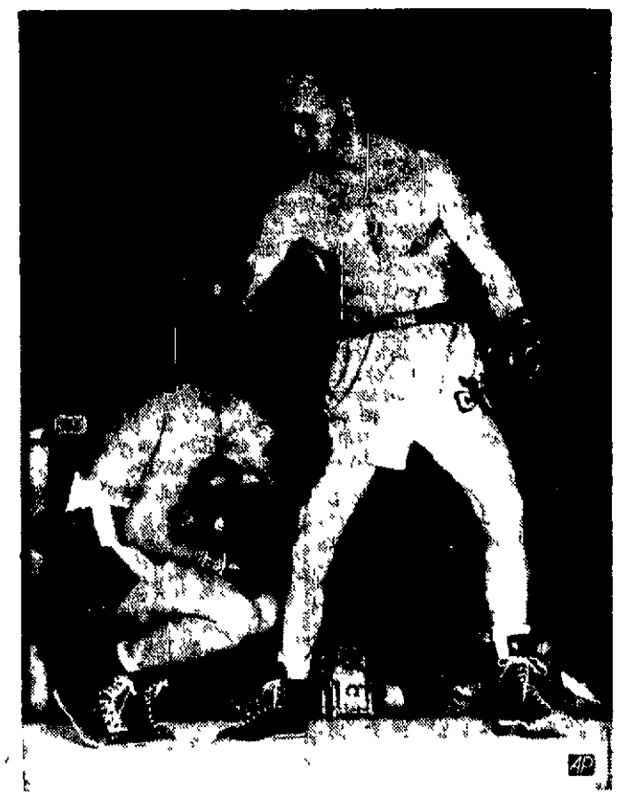
WHAT TO DO with the Red Sox presents something of a problem. It is contrary to every baseball law for a club to come up with that many sterling rookies It was underhanded, furthermore, for Manager Lou Boudreau not to have listed these juvenile wonders on his official roster. However, it's done now and it seems expedient to shove the Bobbysox up a peg into third place.

Let's see, that leaves Detroit without a home and only the fourth spot open. Obviously an awkward situation The Tigers are eighth at the moment Some of them are said to be out of humor with their manager, Red Rolfe. Put them fourth, but remind me to feel their pulse again in about a month.



VEJAR SLUMPS AFTER KNOCKDOWN. Chico Vejar (left), New York University freshman, slumps in a squatting position beside the ropes after being knocked down in the sixth round by welterweight Chuck Davey (right) of Lansing, Mich Vejar rose as he had from previous knockdowns to continue the fight in Chicago Stadium Davey scored four knockdowns in the battle and won with a unanimous decision.

Stock Cars Return For Second Session

Sixty drivers are expected Sunday at the Marion Speedway when the stock cars return for the second racing session of the season Another large turnout of fans also is expected after last Sunday's opening day crowd of 3,000 persons, largest in the history of the track

Officials of B & A Enterprises, operators of the local track, have been working all week in an effort to place the track in perfect condition for the drivers and spectators

This week's card will be topped by a 25-lap feature race, the figure eight and the suicide race, which gains more fans every week. Although two cars plummeted over the bank and three flipped over on the track, no serious injuries resulted during the opening season

Time trials for the Sunday card will open at 12 30 with the first race set to start at 2 30

Reds Open Road Trip At St. Louis

ST LOUIS (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, who seem to specialize in close decisions, will open their first long swing around enemy ball parks here tonight against the Cardinals

After the three-game series here, the Redlegs will visit the four eastern parks before they get back home That journey figures to tell a lot as to whether the Rhinelanders will be able to continue their battle for a first division berth. They're currently tied for third

Ten of Cincinnati's first 20 games have been decided by one run each and there now have been four in a row. The record shows an even break in those down-to-the-wire finishes with five victories and five defeats

The Reds also will start their trip with four pitchers showing a winning percentage. They're led by Herman Wehmeier who has won three and lost none even though he has been able to go the route only once The other winning pitchers are Frank Hiller (3-2) Harry Perkowski (2-1) and Ken Raffensberger (3-2).

The only hurler who has lost more than he has won is Ewell Blackwell who has only one victory to go with three setbacks

Raffensberger was down to work tonight's game against Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell "Raffy" beat the Cardinal rookie, 2 to 1, in a game in Cincinnati a few weeks ago.

Raffensberger, who won his first three games, now has lost two in the last week—one of them in relief

The Redleg management Thursday got the club roster down to the 25-player limit by sending pitcher Niles Jordan to Tulsa of the Texas League under a 24-hour recall agreement. Jordan was one of the players obtained from Philadelphia in an off-season swap

OSU Football Coaches Clinic Opens Today

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio's High School Football Coaches Association today awarded its 1953 All-Star North-South football game to Canton

The annual all-senior contest will be held the night of Aug. 15 in Fawcett Stadium as the climax of a clinic and coaching school starting Aug 3 when the players —cream of the state's scholastic talent—open practice

Jimmy Robinson, Canton Lehman coach, was named director of the event Robinson, former president of the Coaches' Association, was a leading figure in promotion of the all-star contest when it was staged in the Stark County city in 1947 and 1948 The 1952 North-South classic will be held in Akron's Rubber Bowl next August

Enters Lone Bid

Canton made the lone bid for the all-star game which had been scheduled originally for the northwestern sector of the state Under a new ruling, the Coaches Association receives a flat fee of $750 or five per cent of the gross gate receipts

In another action by the coaches at a session lasting until the wee, small hours, the State High School Athletic Board will be requested to regulate the starting and closing dates of all scholastic sports seasons.

Glenn Ellison, Middletown coach, moved that the state board be asked to put some sort of limit on the other sports, and Jim McDonald of Springfield seconded the motion.

The motion was passed by a two-to-one majority, after a previous motion by Seraphim Pope of Lima Central had been voted down Pope advocated a referendum by the school principals, but the majority of the mentors thought that was the wrong approach

Biggest "beef" of the football mentors was against the unlimited practice sessions allowed basketball players, permitting overlapping into the football season The State High School Athletic Association now has no restrictions on practice, except on football

Football schools which hold spring practice of four weeks are banned from fall practice prior to to Sept. 1, while those which hold no spring workouts may start the season's preparation Aug 20 Basketball teams have no restrictions

Ends Saturday

The coaches were in town for the annual Ohio State Football clinic geting under way today and winding up with Saturday's regulation game by Coach Woody Hayes' varsity players.

Today's clinic at Ohio State features "Rusty" Russell, Southern Methodist coach, who was scheduled to explain the aerial offense which has troubled the Bucks the last two years A banquet is scheduled tonight, but the coaches have decided to eliminate the vaudeville entertainment which has been one of the highlights.

AA Hurlers Mark Pitchers' Night

By The Associated Press

Despite cold weather, American Association pitchers cashed in on a big night Thursday with all four winning hurlers going the route.

Virgil Jester scattered six hits for his sixth victory against only one defeat in steering league-leading Milwaukee over Toledo, 6-3

A handful of 512 fans turned out in the 51 degree weather at Toledo to watch the Brewers increase their front-running edge to two games.

Kansas City walloped Columbus 9-2 behind the four-hit twirling of righthander Ed Cereghino. Ray Narleski scattered six blows in pitching Indianapolis to a 5-1 verdict over Minneapolis. The Indians ended a disastrous home stand which saw them drop from first to a tie with the Millers for fourth

St Paul shaded second-place Louisville 3-2 with Earl Mossor the winner on a seven hit chore.

BABE LEADS WOMEN

SEATTLE (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias has earned $5,663 25 so far in 1952 to lead America's feminine professional golfers, Fred Corcoran reported today. Corcoran, tournament director for the Ladies Professional Golfers Association, said Louise Suggs ranked second with $4,069 25 and Betty Jameson third with $3,920 25. Peggy Kirk, of Findlay, had $1,562 25

Alloy, Shovel, Cooler And Depot Win Softball Openers

General - Alloy and Osco tied up in a pitchers duel which lasted over a 12-inning route Thursday night at Garfield Park with General - Alloy pushing across four runs in the 12th inning to notch a 5-1 verdict.

The Alloy batters managed to reach Bud Thorpe, Osco hurler, for three hits a walk one error and a hit batsman to account for the four tallies. Thorpe posted 16 strikeouts while Bud England, winning hurler whiffed 17.

In other Industrial League No. game Thursday night, Marion Power Shovel dumped Marion Industries, 5-1, and Universal Cooler belted Pollack Steel, 16-2 at Garfield Park while Engineer Depot edged Erie A.A., 3-1, at McKinley.

The Shovel earned its win by pushing over single runs in the first, fourth and fifth innings and a pair of tallies in the sixth. They collected six hits. Industries managed to pick up only two hits from the offerings of Shovel hurler, Wilco Wilcox. Adams collected both.

Cooler scored eight runs in the first inning and coasted to its 16 - 2 win over Pollak. They added six in the second and two in the third. Both Pollak runs came in the sixth frame.

The Depot crew scored all three runs in the third frame and protected their lead in upsetting Erie. The three tallies were the result of two hits, a walk and two errors. Erie's single run came on a home run by Cottrill.

Mull, Brown Win Women's Tag Bout

After a wild melee with even a few of the fans pitching in, Mary Jane Mull and Ethel Brown were awarded the feature tag team match at the armory Thursday night. They defeated Ella Waldek and Thersa Theis.

All four girls jumped Referee Joe Dempsey of Cleveland when he attempted to halt the rough stuff.

George Drake slopped Francois Miquet two out of three falls to take the men's match.

In prelims to the tag match Miss Theis pinned Miss Brown and Miss Mull pinned Miss Waldeck.

Illini, Spartans Face Conference Leaders

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois and Michigan State can throw the Big Ten baseball race wide open today with victories over co-leaders Wisconsin and Michigan.

Illinois, in third place with a 4-2 record, invades Wisconsin for a single game today and has a doubleheader at Northwestern Saturday. The Badgers, who are tied with Michigan each with 5-1 marks, has a doubleheader at home Saturday with defending champion Ohio State.

Sports on Television

NEW YORK (AP)—ABC radio and NBC television will handle the 10-round middleweight boxing bout tonight between Sammy Giuliana and Johnny Williams.

Both NBC and CBS will broadcast the Withers Stakes from Belmont Track Saturday at 4:15 p.m. DuMont-TV will telecast five wrestling bouts from Chicago Saturday, starting at 9:30 p.m.

The Pee Wee Reese baseball show will be broadcast over MBS at 5:45 p.m. Saturday. At 3.25 p.m. Saturday, Mutual's game of the day will have the Chicago White Sox at Detroit.

MIAMI MEET OPENS

OXFORD, O. (AP)—A total of 540 athletes from 54 schools will take part in preliminary heats today at the opening of the Miami University invitational High School Track Meet here. The meet ends with finals Saturday. On hand will be Springfield Public, defending champs in Class A, and Anderson Township of Hamilton County, 1951 Class B champions

LEADS LEAGUE

COLUMBUS (AP) — Western Michigan, with a 6-0 record, leads the Mid - America Conference baseball race. The defending champion Broncos meet last-place Toledo in a two-game series this week end. Miami, with a 5-2 mark, and Ohio University, with four wins and two setbacks, loom as the only serious threats to the league leaders. Kent State, Cincinnati, Western Reserve and Toledo bring up the rest of the loop.

Grid Telecasts Continued Despite Attendance Drop

NEW YORK (AP)—Controlled television of college football will again be possible this fall under the National Collegiate Athletic Association program now being drafted.

It probably will be in a broader basis than 1951 although the survey made by the NCAA television committee through the National Opinion Research Center showed television does definite damage to college football attendance.

"This year's television will be spread among more colleges," said Bob Hall, Yale athletic director and chairman of the TV committee. "The colleges acted with the full knowledge they are hurting themselves."

Last years' college TV program presenting an elaborate pattern each week. On some Saturdays a single game was televised across the country. On others a game from one section would be televised only in another section. Each week certain areas were blacked out to test attendance effects.

Television Given Trial For Plane Landings

WASHINGTON (UP) — Washington's national airport is televising plane landings to see if television can help make landings safer and speedier.

The main purpose of the televising is to help control tower observers determine weather and traffic conditions at the end of runways—often, three-quarters of a mile from the control towers—when weather is bad.

According to Weather Bureau scientists, who are conducting the experiment, all planes may be equipped in the future with TV screens so pilots can view weather and traffic conditions on the runways when they are still 20 minutes away from the airport.

The "Spanish Main" of pirate legend was the mainland bordering the Caribbean Sea.

FOR PETE'S SAKE, SIR! IS THAT OUR JOB — TO FIND THIS RADIO DOLL WITH THE COME-HITHER VOICE?
THAT'S THE INITIAL PARAGRAPH OF MY ORDERS — TO LOCATE THE LADY AND MAKE CONTACT.
WHEN HER BROADCASTS WERE FIRST IDENTIFIED, OUR MONITORS OBTAINED FIXES AT DIFFERENT TIMES. THEY LOCATED HER TRANSMITTER ON SEVERAL NORTH KOREAN COASTAL ISLANDS.
GOLLY, SIR, HOW CAN WE CONTACT HER THERE? A NATIVE SECRET AGENT WOULD HAVE A BETTER CHANCE.
WE'VE TRIED THAT— SEVERAL TIMES. IN EACH INSTANCE, THE MAN REPORTED NO SIGNS OF LIFE ON ANY OF THE ISLANDS WHERE WE'D PEGGED HER.
